On Johnson-Leaders Viet Parley

Suspicion Voiced By Ford Of 'Leak' At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said today he has suspicion that information on a Viet Nam conference between President Johnson and congressional leaders last week "was leaked from the White House."

The House Republican leader, regarded as the apparent target of Johnson's blast at "a prominent member of another party" over the reports, did not elaborate. But in a television interview (Today — NBC) he did deny anew that he was the source of the controversial accounts.

At issue was a published report that a memorandum read at the White House session by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana influenced Johnson's choice not to call up National Guard and reserve units. Johnson said that was untrue, and took the view that the leak was in "perhaps malicious" form.

Ford said most of the significant information on the meeting had leaked from other sources by the next morning and much of it was given at a Pentagon press briefing the following day.

"I broke no confidence," Ford asserted.

He said he thought it would be best to drop the whole thing.

That part of his comment today was about the same thing he had said Monday.

Ford denied mentioning the July 26 White House briefing on Viet Nam at a background chat with newsmen. He issued a let's-get-on-with-the-work statement in which, however, he did contend that the main opposition to Johnson's military decisions comes from congressional Democrats, especially in the Senate. And he said Communist leaders would be happy to see a name-calling contest develop.

The White House refused any countercomment.

Whether it was a case of mistaken identity remains unclear, but Johnson used one of the world's greatest forums, the presidential news conference, to blast a prominent Republican Sunday.

The President charged this Republican with leaking "perhaps malicious" reports.

Because the President said "an inexperienced man, or a new one" once in a while might break confidence after a White House briefing, several newspapers concluded he was pointing at Ford, who became House Republican leader this year

Ford told a news conference Monday he wasn't going to be "baited into a verbal donnybrook" with the President. He said that to do so "would play into the hands of Hanoi, Peiping and Moscow."

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., called Johnson's statement a "rather intemperate attack," but immediately added he thought a "breakdown in communications somewhere between the White House and Jerry Ford's office" was responsible.

In an ABC radio news interview, Mundt went on to say the affair emphasizes that Republicans should be consulted more before plans for Viet Nam are made, "but I don't think that either Jerry Ford or Lyndon Johnson wear hairshirts to the point where one particular disenchanting experience is going to create a permanent schism between them."

Rusk Voices Doubts For Peace Talks

Thinks U.N. Will Continue Efforts Despite Hanoi Snub

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says he sees no indication that the Communists of North Viet Nam and Red China are ready for a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

While Rusk gave this estimate to a news conference Monday, he also held open the possibility the United Nations would continue to work for peace, despite Hanoi's rejection of this move.

The Pentagon meanwhile acted to make certain the growing flow of military supplies to South Viet Nam will move without obstacles or bottlenecks. Formation of a 10-man task force charged with this responsibility was announced Monday.

The Defense Department, questioned about a congressional report of shortages in Viet Nam, said there are none now and the new move is designed to keep any from developing.

To be ready in case of a call-up of reserves is decided on later, the department plans to speed up training and increase combat power of three reserve divisions, six independent brigades and other combat and support units, deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus R. Vance said. The specific units have not yet been selected, the Pentagon reported.

A spokesman also said the list of known antiaircraft missile sites in North Viet Nam still stands at seven, including the two hit by a U.S. air strike last week. The spokesman did not confirm reports that additional sites had been discovered, but remarked, "we are well aware that others could develop."

Guerrillas Shell U.S. Copter Base; No Craft Damaged

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces fought off one Viet Cong attack early today but suffered "heavy" losses in another attack on an outpost manned by six militiamen, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

Nine Communist guerrillas were reported killed in an attack on the district town of Phuoc Binh 75 miles northeast of Saigon. Vietnamese casualties were termed "very light."

The six militiamen were manning the Phuoc Xuyen outpost 65 miles west of Saigon.

The U.S. spokesman gave this report of other action in the war:

Guerrillas shelled the U.S. helicopter base at Soc Trang, in the Mekong Delta, Monday night with eight mortar rounds but no aircraft were damaged and casualties were "very light."

As soon as the 20-minute attack started, the helicopters were flown out. They returned to the base shortly after midnight. Aircraft at Soc Trang, 100 miles southwest of Saigon, were similarly evacuated July 24 after several explosions that were believed caused by two or three mortar rounds.

A regional force company suffered "moderate" casualties and five civilians were wounded when two hand grenades exploded in the market place of Phuoc Toa, a district town 40 miles north of Saigon in D zone. The terrorists escaped.

Viet Cong casualties rose to 22 killed in a government operation 330 miles northeast of Saigon near Quang Ngai City. Fifteen suspects were detained and one guerrilla captured. Vietnamese casualties were "very light."

In the air war in South Viet Nam, U.S. and Vietnamese fighter - bombers continued heavy strikes against suspected Viet Cong positions. The spokesman said an estimated 157 guerrillas were reported killed but the figure was not confirmed by body count.

Final House Approval Set On Vote Bill

Reapportion Fight Will Delay Senate Move Till Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A landmark bill designed to assure Southern Negroes their constitutional right to register and vote is set for final House approval today.

But a fight over legislative reapportionment will delay Senate consideration until Thursday. And if Southern senators decide to fire a last barrage at the measure, final congressional passage could be delayed beyond that.

Still, there is no doubt of the outcome: Top heavy approval in both House and Senate of this compromise version of conflicting bills approved by both bodies earlier in the session.

The major aim of the bill is to provide for the suspension of literacy tests and other tests used to keep Negroes from voting.

To accomplish this, special federal examiners would be appointed in states and voting districts where less than 50 per cent of otherwise eligible voters are registered.

And where examiners are appointed, poll watchers could be designated by the attorney general in subsequent elections. Public officials or private individuals who interfere with the voting process could face criminal charges.

Under terms of the bill literacy tests would be suspended in Alabama, Alaska, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia, in 34 counties in North Carolina and in one county each in Arizona, Idaho and Maine.

An important provision calls for an early Supreme Court test of state and local poll taxes. Poll taxes already are outlawed in federal elections by constitutional amendment.

The House bill would have outlawed outright all state and local poll taxes. But the administration claimed this approach was of doubtful constitutionality and induced the Senate to include, instead, direction to the attorney general to bring immediate court action to have the poll tax declared unconstitutional.

Only Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia and Texas have such a tax.

March Near Mayor's Home

75 Are Arrested In Chicago Riot

CHICAGO (AP) — Sixty-five civil rights demonstrators, most of them Negroes, chanted and sang around the South Side block where Mayor Richard J. Daley lives and were arrested Monday night.

Residents of the all-white, middle-class neighborhood were out in force to watch as police hauled the marchers away in police vans.

The marchers, led by Negro comedian Dick Gregory were protesting the retention of Schools Supt. Benjamin C. Willis. They contend he has maintained de facto segregation in the city's public schools. They have made Daley a target because he has refused to ask the Board of Education to fire Willis.

The marchers, a segment of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations walked more than four miles from downtown Chicago to Daley's neighborhood. They made the same march Sunday night, but there were no incidents.

After they had walked around the block a few times, Police Capt. Howard Pierson stepped forward and three times asked them to disperse.

Police said they would be charged with disorderly conduct.

"Do not go limp. Do not give the police any trouble. We have not broken the law," Gregory told his followers.

As the vans pulled away, some 500 white persons who had been watching threw objects at the vehicles. Inside the vans, demonstrators chanted: "We want our freedom."

Pierson said he had not contacted the mayor, who reportedly was inside his red-brick bungalow, before making the arrests.

After the arrests, four plainclothes policemen stationed themselves in front of the mayor's home, which is guarded front and rear 24 hours a day by uniformed men. The white crowd was dispersed by police.

The demonstrators were hailed with catcalls and jibes as they entered the mayor's neighborhood.

37 Arrested In Carolina Rights Riot

ALLENDALE, S.C. (AP) — About 75 state troopers patrolled Allendale today after the arrest of 37 civil rights demonstrators and a warning from Gov. Robert McNair that order would be preserved in South Carolina.

Chief J.P. Strom of the State Law Enforcement Division said an additional 50 troopers were ordered to Allendale Monday night "as a preventive measure."

In Columbia, U.S. Dist. Atty. Terrell Glenn said GBI agents were in Allendale investigating complaints by civil rights workers that voter registrars deliberately slowed the process while Negroes waited to register.

Gov. McNair, who was reared in this farming town of about 5,000, said, "No one will be allowed unlawfully to demonstrate or disrupt activities in any courthouse in this state."

Those jailed Monday included a Roman Catholic priest and a baptist minister who said they were chaplains at Wayne State University in Detroit, Mich.

Most of those jailed said they represented the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference in a drive to register Negroes during the only day this month the voter registration books were to be opened.

Mrs. S.J. Wilson, chairman of the board of voter registrars, said 59 Negroes were registered Monday and she had no authority to reopen the books. South Carolina law requires that registration books be open on the first Monday in each month in nonelection years.

The 37 arrested were charged with disorderly conduct.

Heath Loses Verbal Battle With Wilson

New Tory Leader's No Confidence Try Defeated, 303,290

LONDON (AP) — Two leading British newspapers said today that Edward Heath, making his parliamentary debut as Conservative party leader, lost a verbal duel with Labor Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

"He lost by a knockout," the independent Times of London said. "When it comes to the art of infighting, Mr. Wilson has no peer. By the same token, Mr. Heath has a lot to learn."

"Disappointment was sadly and generally registered by Conservatives when they heard their new leader," said the conservative Daily Telegraph.

The House of Commons debate Monday night centered on a motion by Heath expressing no confidence in the Labor government and deploring Wilson's handling of the affairs of state. With the 10 Liberal members abstaining, the government defeated the motion 303-290.

Heath accused the Laborites of destroying confidence by over dramatizing the extent of Britain's financial crisis and by using piecemeal measures to ease it.

The new Tory chief avoided verbal fireworks in his first major speech as party leader. And Wilson brought the packed benches to a fever by taunting the previous Conservative government with having secretly prepared every kind of emergency measure which they now sought to censure.

He charged that the Conservatives had detailed schemes ready for an imports surcharge of the kind his government introduced last October, and for an imports quota system, which Labor has avoided.

He accused Heath of humbug and political cowardice, and said: "We treat his censure motion with contempt."

Heath sprang to his feet to reply, but his words were drowned out by shouts from the Labor seats.

School Plans For East End Due Shortly

Working drawings and specifications for the new East End elementary school will be ready to submit to state officials the first of next week and plans for the LaCroft building may be completed by the same time, Robert F. Beatty, architect, advised the Board of Education Monday night.

Beatty explained to the board that the state officials still must approve the final plans before the board can advertise for bids. Legal notices must be published for four weeks before bids can be opened, he added.

Board members said they believe the East End plans should be submitted whether plans for the LaCroft school are completed or not. The board expressed its anxiety in getting the program started.

The board indicated that unless some part of the program is started soon it will seek a meeting with top officials of the State Department of Education to determine the reasons for the delay.

The two - story East End building will be located on the same tract as East Junior High, while the LaCroft building will be erected on the former Dawson property on Boring Ln.

The two schools are part of a $4.3 million building program approved by voters at a special election last September. The program also includes a new senior high school and an elementary building to serve the North Side area, both of which will be erected on the former Hilbert property on Maine Blvd.

During Board Meeting

10-Year Limitation Fixed In School Levy's Wording

The Board of Education decided Monday night to limit the life of a 3.5-mill levy to provide funds for salary increases for school employes to 10 years following another discussion on the wording of the resolution to be certified to the County Election Board for a ballot place at the Nov. 2 general election.

The vote inserting the time limitation in the resolution was 4 to 1, with John R. Woomer dissenting. Woomer is opposed to placing any levy on the ballot at this time.

Richard Smith had objected to the wording after Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, read a revised draft drawn by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper which included the phrase "current expenses of the school district, to wit: school employes' salaries." She explained the resolution is similar to a 1-mill levy already on the books which yields funds earmarked specifically for repair and maintenance.

Advised that the resolution did not contain a time limit and would be in effect indefinitely if approved by voters, Smith commented:

"This is wrong. I have no right to tell someone 10 years from now they must keep paying this tax. People should have the opportunity to vote. This country was founded on the right to vote. We are told each year by newspapers, radio and television to exercise our privilege. Now we say they don't have to vote. If we keep taking away rights, there won't be any left."

Questioned by Woomer, Supt. Paul H. Blair said the levy can be put on for a specified period of time. He added that the law

Some Details In U.S. Troop Strategy Set

HONOLULU (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said today a strategy conference of military leaders here had settled some details involved in deploying 50,000 more American troops in South Viet Nam.

"We were able to settle some of the details of implementing the President's decision and I feel we are on a sound basis for carrying out the President's decision," Wheeler told a news conference after the secret eight-hour conference.

At a planeside interview, before returning to Washington, D.C., Wheeler would not comment on the details.

"I feel that if I went into that, I'd be talking about military plans. It's always unwise to tell the enemy what you're planning to do," he said.

In the talks, working out details of the build-up announced last Wednesday by the President, also were Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam; Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific military commander in chief, and a score of other military leaders from Washington, Pearl Harbor and Saigon.

Wheeler said the United States had several alternatives in gaining the troops necessary for the build-up.

CHICAGO (AP) — Sixty-five civil rights demonstrators, most of them Negroes, chanted and sang around the South Side block where Mayor Richard J. Daley lives and were arrested Monday night.

Residents of the all-white, middle-class neighborhood were out in force to watch as police hauled the marchers away in police vans.

The marchers, led by Negro comedian Dick Gregory were protesting the retention of Schools Supt. Benjamin C. Willis. They contend he has maintained de facto segregation in the city's public schools. They have made Daley a target because he has refused to ask the Board of Education to fire Willis.

The marchers, a segment of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations walked more than four miles from downtown Chicago to Daley's neighborhood. They made the same march Sunday night, but there were no incidents.

After they had walked around the block a few times, Police Capt. Howard Pierson stepped forward and three times asked them to disperse.

Police said they would be charged with disorderly conduct.

"Do not go limp. Do not give the police any trouble. We have not broken the law," Gregory told his followers.

As the vans pulled away, some 500 white persons who had been watching threw objects at the vehicles. Inside the vans, demonstrators chanted: "We want our freedom."

Pierson said he had not contacted the mayor, who reportedly was inside his red-brick bungalow, before making the arrests.

After the arrests, four plainclothes policemen stationed themselves in front of the mayor's home, which is guarded front and rear 24 hours a day by uniformed men. The white crowd was dispersed by police.

The demonstrators were hailed with catcalls and jibes as they entered the mayor's neighborhood.

37 Arrested In Carolina Rights Riot

ALLENDALE, S.C. (AP) — About 75 state troopers patrolled Allendale today after the arrest of 37 civil rights demonstrators and a warning from Gov. Robert McNair that order would be preserved in South Carolina.

Chief J.P. Strom of the State Law Enforcement Division said an additional 50 troopers were ordered to Allendale Monday night "as a preventive measure."

In Columbia, U.S. Dist. Atty. Terrell Glenn said GBI agents were in Allendale investigating complaints by civil rights workers that voter registrars deliberately slowed the process while Negroes waited to register.

Gov. McNair, who was reared in this farming town of about 5,000, said, "No one will be allowed unlawfully to demonstrate or disrupt activities in any courthouse in this state."

Those jailed Monday included a Roman Catholic priest and a baptist minister who said they were chaplains at Wayne State University in Detroit, Mich.

Most of those jailed said they represented the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference in a drive to register Negroes during the only day this month the voter registration books were to be opened.

Mrs. S.J. Wilson, chairman of the board of voter registrars, said 59 Negroes were registered Monday and she had no authority to reopen the books. South Carolina law requires that registration books be open on the first Monday in each month in nonelection years.

The 37 arrested were charged with disorderly conduct.

Heath Loses Verbal Battle With Wilson

New Tory Leader's No Confidence Try Defeated, 303-290

LONDON (AP) — Two leading British newspapers said today that Edward Heath, making his parliamentary debut as Conservative party leader, lost a verbal duel with Labor Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

"He lost by a knockout," the independent Times of London said. "When it comes to the art of infighting, Mr. Wilson has no peer. By the same token, Mr. Heath has a lot to learn."

"Disappointment was sadly and generally registered by Conservatives when they heard their new leader," said the conservative Daily Telegraph.

The House of Commons debate Monday night centered on a motion by Heath expressing no confidence in the Labor government and deploring Wilson's handling of the affairs of state. With the 10 Liberal members abstaining, the government defeated the motion 303-290.

Heath accused the Laborites of destroying confidence by over dramatizing the extent of Britain's financial crisis and by using piecemeal measures to ease it.

The new Tory chief avoided verbal fireworks in his first major speech as party leader. And Wilson brought the packed benches to a fever by taunting the previous Conservative government with having secretly prepared every kind of emergency measure which they now sought to censure.

He charged that the Conservatives had detailed schemes ready for an imports surcharge of the kind his government introduced last October, and for an imports quota system, which Labor has avoided.

He accused Heath of humbug and political cowardice, and said: "We treat his censure motion with contempt."

Heath sprang to his feet to reply, but his words were drowned out by shouts from the Labor seats.

10-Year Limitation Fixed In School Levy's Wording

The Board of Education decided Monday night to limit the life of a 3.5-mill levy to provide funds for salary increases for school employes to 10 years following another discussion on the wording of the resolution to be certified to the County Election Board for a ballot place at the Nov. 2 general election.

The vote inserting the time limitation in the resolution was 4 to 1, with John R. Woomer dissenting. Woomer is opposed to placing any levy on the ballot at this time.

Richard Smith had objected to the wording after Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, read a revised draft drawn by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper which included the phrase "current expenses of the school district, to wit: school employes' salaries." She explained the resolution is similar to a 1-mill levy already on the books which yields funds earmarked specifically for repair and maintenance.

Advised that the resolution did not contain a time limit and would be in effect indefinitely if approved by voters, Smith commented:

"This is wrong. I have no right to tell someone 10 years from now they must keep paying this tax. People should have the opportunity to vote. This country was founded on the right to vote. We are told each year by newspapers, radio and television to exercise our privilege. Now we say they don't have to vote. If we keep taking away rights, there won't be any left."

Questioned by Woomer, Supt. Paul H. Blair said the levy can be put on for a specified period of time. He added that the law

A 3-year-old youngster apparently escaped injury late Monday afternoon when he darted into the path of an East End woman's auto after breaking away from two young companions.

Jeffrey Sprout, son of Charles Sprout, 216 Ravine St., was taken to City Hospital, but there were no visible injuries, the hospital said. He was referred to the family physician for additional examination.

Police were told the youngster dashed into the path of a car driven by Laura K. Moore, 1717 Holliday St., who was driving south in the 200 block on Ravine St. about 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

He was taken to the hospital by the driver's husband, Robert Moore.

The woman said she did not feel any impact, but the youngster was lying in the street when she got out.

A mishap at 4:18 p.m. in the A. & P. parking lot on Walnut St. involved autos operated by Donald A. Bailey, 46, of 921 Phoenix Ave., Chester, and Harry George, 25, of 616 Grove Alley.

Water Instructors' Course Offered By Red Cross Here

A third-week Red Cross water safety instructor course will be launched Thursday night at Lake Marwin, with Bob Bushman of Weirton in charge of the first 15 hours.

The East Liverpool Red Cross Chapter said the course will be given from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m.

The final training sessions in the course will begin Aug. 30, with Dominic A. Morell, water safety field representative from the Red Cross Eastern Area Headquarters at Alexandria, Va., in charge.

Eight who recently passed the senior life - saving course have registered for the training.

Miss Mary Catherine Brady, executive director of the chapter, said anyone with the qualifications may enroll.

To receive instructor training, a person must be at least 18—or 17 and a graduate of high school—and must have completed the senior life saving course within the past three years.

Registration may be made by telephoning the Red Cross at the Mary Patterson Memorial or by attending the first session at Lake Marwin Thursday.

Lack Of Interest Snarls Efforts Of Wellsville Group

The Greater Wellsville Association, an organization founded just a few months ago, may be discontinued if more interest is not shown by the membership, it was announced today.

Only five attended a business meeting two weeks ago and at another meeting Monday night only four were present, according to Arthur Montgomery, president.

Montgomery said he will call another meeting Aug. 16 at 7:30 p. m. in the City Hall Council Chambers.

All members and any interested citizen are urged to attend. "If more interest is not shown, we will have to discontinue," Montgomery said.

Montgomery said the membership will be given an opportunity to reorganize at the Aug. 16 session, stating that perhaps some are not satisfied with the present officers.

4-H News

The No. 16 Agricultural 4-H Club held a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Martha Serafy of Wellsville R.D. 1.

Jim Wellington presided, Scott Glover led devotions and Paul Boyd read the roll call.

Five Are Questioned In Steubenville Case

STEUBENVILLE — Five men were released by police Monday night after questioning in the beating of an employe of Barium and Chemicals, Inc., a member of the skeleton crew that has been operating the plant since a strike was called there last week.

Niles C. Landingham, 31, of Steubenville told police he was going home from work early Monday when he was approached by five men in a pickup truck and ordered to sign a union card. He said he refused and the men beat him.

Landingham was bruised badly, but did not require hospitalization, police said.

Youngster, 3, Runs In Path Of Auto Here

A 3-year-old youngster apparently escaped injury late Monday afternoon when he darted into the path of an East End woman's auto after breaking away from two young companions.

Jeffrey Sprout, son of Charles Sprout, 216 Ravine St., was taken to City Hospital, but there were no visible injuries, the hospital said. He was referred to the family physician for additional examination.

Police were told the youngster dashed into the path of a car driven by Laura K. Moore, 1717 Holliday St., who was driving south in the 200 block on Ravine St. about 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

He was taken to the hospital by the driver's husband, Robert Moore.

Mrs. Moore told police the youngster came between two parked cars, with two little girls holding his hands. The girls stopped, but the boy dashed into the path of her car.

The woman said she did not feel any impact, but the youngster was lying in the street when she got out.

A mishap at 4:18 p.m. in the A. & P. parking lot on Walnut St. involved autos operated by Donald A. Bailey, 46, of 921 Phoenix Ave., Chester, and Harry George, 25, of 616 Grove Alley.

Bailey told police his auto started to drift forward when he started it and he put it in reverse to avoid striking a car in front. In backing, he hit George who was driving through the lot.

Paul M. Kirchner, 1030 Bank St., told police the right front fender of his 1960 sedan was damaged when struck by a hit-skip driver about 4:50 p.m. Monday while the auto was parked on Washington St.

More Hearings Set In City's Tax Cases

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff has set Aug. 17 for hearings for 17 more defendants in city income tax cases.

Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor said he will begin serving summonses today on the defendants accused of failing to file final returns for 1964 in affidavits filed last Friday by D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner.

Meanwhile, Chertoff today dismissed a similar charge against Donley C. Davis, 1149 Pennsylvania Ave., after the court was advised that the defendant had paid the tax.

Too Long For One Session

When the 106th Ohio General Assembly winds up its regular session next week—if, in fact, it can do it in a week—it will have written a record of substantial achievement.

It will have passed important legislation in the fields of public education, civil rights, welfare, health and economic development.

But the time it took to nail down these achievements also set a record. The 106th has the dubious distinction of remaining in continuous session longer than any other in the state's history.

ODD PART about this is that it is difficult to find a legislator who doesn't feel working sessions should have ended early last month at the latest.

There is nothing the legislature has done in seven months that it couldn't have accomplished in six — and even that is being charitable.

Trouble is, everyone thinks about adjourning when Memorial Day rolls around but no one does anything about it.

Until a few weeks ago, the legislature still was waiting until Monday night to begin its weekly sessions and closing up shop early on Thursday. The leadership finally decided it might speed things up if lawmakers checked in for a Monday afternoon session and stuck around for a session on Friday.

But that wasn't enough. Nobody set a deadline. The legislature dragged on. As summer began to wane, tempers rose. Minor disagreements became major points of debate, which is why the lawmakers were sent home last week for a cooling-off period.

ALL THIS brings us around to an old theme — annual instead of biennial sessions of the legislature.

Major disagreements blocking adjournment have been over money — how much to put into public school subsidies for the next two years and how to carve up funds from the latest capital improvements bond issue for the same period.

We doubt that these roadblocks would have developed if the state were on an annual budget with the legislature going into a limited, even-year session to act on fiscal matters only.

Asking a legislature to look two years ahead to map a spending program of more than $2.8 billion is an invitation to chaos.

We think a majority of legislators feel the same way, yet individual attempts to pass an annual sessions resolution, which would put the issue on the ballot, rarely get beyond the hearing stage.

THIS YEAR, eight such resolutions were offered, representing the thinking of more than a dozen lawmakers of both parties and both houses. One made it as far as the House Rules Committee but hasn't been heard of since.

The 106th Assembly, which has been ambling toward adjournment for seven months, could help justify its prolonged session by acting next week on this long overdue resolution.

Too Many Pep Pills

The Ohio Council for Education and the Ohio Education Association intend to put a proposal for a one-cent Ohio sales tax increase on the November ballot.

They claim the schools of Ohio need a $116 million increase over and above what the General Assembly is going to give them — a figure stall indefinite, by the way.

Their "plan for educational progress" — PEP — calls for this thumping increase in state educational support, they explain, and the only way to get it is through a 33⅓ per cent increase in the Ohio sales tax.

That is, of course, what a jump from 3 to 4 cents on the dollar amounts to — a 33⅓ per cent increase.

It would demolish the Rhodes administration's claim that Ohio is one of only a handful of states in which no new or increased taxes will be levied to finance state operations in this or immediately succeeding years.

WE THINK its chances of passage in a statewide vote are negligible.

We cannot understand why the two associations backing the proposal are willing to risk a turndown at the polls that would pull the rug from under them the next time they tell legislators they have strong popular support.

Even their own membership cannot be counted on to back a proposal that would cost one more cent on every dollar's worth of purchases subject to the Ohio sales tax.

It is unthinkable that any state administration would tackle a sales tax boost of this proportion for the general welfare of the state; it would be asking for sure defeat.

If the school people of Ohio believe they can whoop up enough support to put over a 33⅓ per cent increase for the sole benefit of schools, they have been taking too many of their own PEP pills.

PEOPLE will vote for school levies whose need is immediate and close at hand.

But it takes wild imagining to believe a majority of Ohioans next November would go for a one-third increase in the state sales tax for the benefit of schools in general.

U.S. Buys Snub In Pakistan

The president of Pakistan, Mohammed Ayub Khan, doesn't like Washington's aid to India, a neighbor with whom he has territorial quarrels, so he has decided to thumb his nose at us and strengthen his ties with the Communist countries.

Of course the fact that Pakistan has received some $5 billion in economic and military aid from the United States makes no difference.

AYUB'S position, in effect, is two-fold:

1. "Don't help anybody else in our neck of the woods that we don't like."
2. "What have you done for us today?"

Ayub says Pakistan is "looking for friends, not masters." Taking him at his word, it would seem that he is looking in the wrong direction if strengthening his country's independence is his goal.

No one who cuts into the game of Communist roulette is in any position to strengthen his independence.

But the really ludicrous part of Ayub's statement is that Pakistan is going to "reorder our priorities" in economic planning to reduce dependence on foreign aid.

THIS implies that Pakistan either has all the foreign aid it needs or could have run the course without any help in the first place.

We would suggest that the U.S. "reorder ITS priorities" and do everything in its power to accommodate Pakistan in its new economic development program.

Bomb Anniversary

By Richard Spong

At 8:15 Friday morning a swarm of doves will fly into the air over the Hiroshima Memorial Park and the Bell for Peace will begin its mournful toll. The ceremony will mark the exact 20th anniversary of the dropping by the Superfortress Enola Gay of the first atom bomb as a weapon.

The bomb which fell on Hiroshima packed more power than 20,000 tons of TNT. It wiped out 60 per cent of the city or 4.1 square miles. The Japanese said the dead were too numerous to count. Tokyo now lists some 61,000 dead, including those who died of illnesses subsequently attributed to the bomb. Other estimates run as high as 200,000.

Three days after the first atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima the weapon was declared obsolete. The blast at Nagasaki on Aug. 9, 1945, killed an estimated 73,884 persons. Brig. Gen. Thomas Farrell, atomic bomb chief in the Marianas, said: "The function of the bomb used at Nagasaki made the one used against Hiroshima obsolete. The type used against Hiroshima was discarded in favor of the Nagasaki type."

Now, 20 years after Hiroshima and Nagasaki, the three nuclear powers who matter obey a ban on atmospheric tests of the infinitely more powerful H-bombs. France plans a hydrogen bomb test next summer. Red China is scheduling third and fourth nuclear tests. And the disarmament technicians of 17 nations are assembled at Geneva in dubious discussions aimed at preventing the spread of nuclear capabilities still further.

The political chain reaction set off 20 years ago continues to shape world events. Hiroshima will mark the anniversary with a quiet ceremony before the simple arched memorial that commemorates the dead. A silent prayer that the bomb may never fall again will be offered.

Elsewhere in the city, presumably, the World Conference Against Nuclear Weapons will be noisier. Two years ago the Peking representative used the Communist-dominated sounding-board to accuse the Russians—in signing the nuclear test ban—of "selling out and surrendering to the United States."

The names of Hiroshima and Nagasaki are being invoked to protest against American military involvement in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic in an "Assembly of Unrepresented People" in Washington and Friday through Monday.

DEMONSTRATIONS—sure to be photogenic—are planned at the White House, the Washington Monument, and the House chamber. These "unrepresented" people are represented by The Catholic Worker, the Committee for Nonviolent Action, Student Peace Union, and War Registers League, all listed as sponsors.

The United States spent $2 billion and used 125,000 individuals in what President Truman later called "the greatest scientific gamble in history." Hiroshima guilt, after 20 years, is highly exploitable. Of the atomic decision Winston Churchill wrote most gravely: "The historical fact remains and must be judged in the aftertime."

Bugs In The Workers' Paradise

Battle Against The Reds Goes On

By Victor Riesel

GEORGETOWN, B. G.

On the "other side of town" in a little labor hall there was an emotional moment worth coverage by the world press and TV cameras linked to "Early bird" intercontinental broadcast.

Victor Riesel

There was but one foreign correspondent there and he got a look into the future. This came when the prime minister of this land began making the welcoming speech to the labor movement's 12th national "congress." With the eloquence and literacy so characteristic of his people, Prime Minister Forbes Burnham spoke to the labor delegates as one of them. And well he could.

Standing up front he was the oratorical embodiment of what few busy Americans are aware. Here, as well as the world over, where burgeoning nations spawn new governments, the labor leader of yesterday is the prime minister of today.

This is significant, for there are still 31 British colonies soon to be independent. Each will have an independent government, a voice in the U.N. and each will be led by trade unionists.

PRIME MINISTER Burnham is president (now on leave) of the British Guiana Labor Union, "mother of all unions" here. Thus, when he arose and greeted the delegates to the national congress as "comrades," it was his right.

Thus he could say to them, "We have struck together, we have sung (Solidarity Forever) together, we have worked together . . . and if there is a change in government I will return to you. . . ."

And, in return, the chairman greeted the prime minister warmly and as a comrade. But the chairman reminded the prime minister frankly that the labor movement made him and could break him. And it could "destroy any politicians," the chairman gently advised.

It all was done with the underplay of British wit absorbed by the Guianese, governed so long by the English. But there was unity in the face of the enemy, the Mao-ist type opposition party which was ousted in an election only six months ago after holding the government for years.

The premier's party needs this unity to fight off the Communists' Operation Intimidation and the mysterious sabotage and arson. But most important here and to the people of North and South America, the premier's party (People's National Congress) needs skilled infighters and parliamentarians to outmaneuver the Communists in the unions and the parliament.

THE COMMUNISTS are aided by Havana, Moscow and Peking. Only a few weeks ago the Communists' leader and disciplinarian, Mrs. Janet R. Jagan, was in London on her way to see Mao-Tze tung in Peking. She had to return here because of serious problems inside her People's Progressive party.

To offset this Communist global operation inside Georgetown, the anti-Communist labor movement receives help from the American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD), which operates out of Washington. It's unique. AIFLD is a joint venture of American labor and American industry. Both sides have gotten together to neutralize the Communists' invisible invasion of the Caribbean and Central and South America.

Working with AIFLD's president, George Meany, are the top executives of such farsighted corporations as Pan American Airways, General Motors, Grace and Co., General Electric — to mention just a few of the 60 major U.S. firms which joined with the AFL-CIO to help develop democratic labor leaders and millions of rank and filers.

THUS THE GRADUATES of the Communist training schools in Cuba, Russia and mainland China are neutralized by the scholarly and practical AIFLD labor training center in Washington. One of AIFLD's graduates is the gentle, soft-voiced David R. Persaud, now president of the British Guiana Trades Union Council.

But the developing of a Dave Persaud into a skilled labor leader is only one of the joint labor - management ventures here and across the West Indies and Latin world. AIFLD, through guaranteed loans from the AFL-CIO, has a permanent headquarters here which is building a housing project for 580 families. This is the first of its kind in a land which the Communist regime let rot. But there is also the vast interior, much of it jungles no man has trod. And much of it with no roads at all.

For the Guianese deep in the interior — the people the Communists sought to drive into misery so the "imperialists" would be blamed — the AIFLD has a Cinvaram machine. It weighs 50 pounds. With shipment it costs $180. With the correct mixture of soil and water and the application of 200 pounds of pressure per square inch, Cinvaram makes strong bricks for swift housing construction.

With a little muscle and much heart and $180 worth of machinery — supplied by AIFLD—families can have little homes of their own to provide a feeling of dignity, and sufficiently sturdy to keep out the weather and Communist propaganda.

Thus the battle goes in far-off lands. Thus it can be won when men of good will stride shoulder to shoulder.

Viet Nam Stalemate

By David Lawrence

'Standstill Strategy' Tied To Johnson

The President has spoken, the newspapers on both sides of the Iron Curtain have spoken, and the critics inside the United States have had their say, too, but the crucial answer to what lies ahead in Southeast Asia still is unrevealed by Peking or Moscow.

David Lawrence

The Communists have used the last few days to analyze Mr. Johnson's remarks at his July 28 news conference and doubtless have come to some conclusion. It only can be guessed what they have decided but it would not be surprising if they became convinced that, despite all the brave words, the American government doesn't really mean to fight to the bitter end and now is desperately seeking a way to extricate itself from a frustrating situation.

While President Johnson talked eloquently about America's unwillingness to surrender or appease, his speech reflects a discomfiture over the demands of many Americans, inside and outside of politics, who feel the United States government should get out of Viet Nam as gracefully as possible no matter how prolonged the peace conferences may be.

AMERICAN CONSENTED, as did the United Nations, to join in just such an unsatisfactory ending of the Korean War. To this day nothing has been settled, and Korea still is divided. There isn't even a peace treaty in existence to replace the armistice agreement.

Is the United States government getting ready to do this again? If so, all the fine talk about a refusal to surrender will go for naught. The enemy knows that the American people are in the midst of a business boom, and assumes that the pleasures and luxuries of a "great-society-to-be" are considered more desirable than sending the boys to war or skyrocketing the expenditures of government so that a choice has to made of "guns or butter."

A similar illusion in the democratic countries about "peace at any price" led to World War I and then later to World War II.

The Red Chinese and the Soviets, although permitting their press to cry out loudly that America is bent on aggression, are likely within their private counsels, however, to conclude that Mr. Johnson's speech was a turning point in policy, for he spoke of a "measured" operation. This could be interpreted to mean limited forces which might do nothing decisive to checkmate the growing escalation of guerrilla warfare in Viet Nam.

THE PRESIDENT in his speech made no reference to the Russians, as, it is said, he didn't want to hurt their feelings and even counts on their help behind the scenes in restraining the Red Chinese. The only mention of Red China was in the following paragraph of Mr. Johnson's talk:

"Some citizens of South Viet Nam, at times with understandable grievances, have joined in the attack on their own government. But we must not let this mask the central fact that this is really war. It's guided by North Viet Nam and it is spurred by Communist China. Its goal is to conquer the South, to defeat American power, and to extend the Asiatic dominion of Communism."

But who sent technicians and supplies recently to build the missile bases in North Viet Nam? Obviously it was the Russians. The plain truth is that Red China and the Soviet Union today are engaged in a war against the United States, just as Moscow and Peking made war against the United Nations in Korea in 1950—the Soviets by furnishing munitions and supplies, as the Russian delegate to the U.N. openly boasted, and the Red Chinese by sending their big armies across the Yalu River to kill tens of thousands of American boys.

THE UNITED NATIONS responded to diplomatic pressure from Great Britain and France and refrained from bombing the supply lines across the Yalu as the Red Chinese invaded South Korea.

Today it looks as if the same thing is developing in Viet Nam, as American airmen have been cautioned to limit their bombing attacks instead of waging all-out war against the enemy bases and supply lines.

So the world may be facing another defeat for the principle of united action against Communist imperialism. The impression given by the Johnson administration last week—however unintentional such a meaning may have been—is that a decision has been made to get out of the mess some way, but not by fighting to a victorious conclusion.

Another stalemate, therefore, is in prospect. For, while professing no willingness to retreat, the administration has adopted a standstill strategy. Will the enemy now misconstrue this as weakness, and will this necessitate in the long run bigger and bigger military commitments anyway and greater sacrifices by American troops? Peking and Moscow alone know the answer.

Odds With Johnson

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It's been an odd year. But the odds have been with President Johnson, at home and abroad, and he's playing them hard.

With Kennedy it was the opposite. The Democrats' narrow squeak in the 1960 elections gave him a Congress where his party's majority was far less. So Johnson could get his programs through far easier than Kennedy could.

But in his best day, no matter the kind of Congress, Kennedy was no match for Johnson in endless energy and manipulation of the men in the Capitol.

Even in racial disturbances Johnson has had less trouble than Kennedy. But Johnson in his public statements has expressed more concern for Negroes than Kennedy or any president in history.

One of the unknowns of Johnson's presidency is how he will do with complicated and critical situations overseas since he is far less experienced in foreign affairs than domestic issues.

But abroad there have been no crises or complexities that needed his full attention, except for Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, which meant he could concentrate on them.

Ordinarily an American president in any given year could expect a hatful of grief with foreign problems. Kennedy's biggest individual problem was with Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Example: The Cuban missile crisis.

But after the treaty banning nuclear tests, in 1963, Khrushchev calmed down and American-Russian relations improved. Last October the Russians threw Khrushchev out.

His successors are gray compared with him, quieter, and apparently more concerned with problems in Russia and relations with Red China than the rest of the world, which is a big switch from Khrushchev.

Johnson is having little trouble there. And noisy Red China, although snarling at Russia and the United States with equal hostility, seems bent on keeping out of trouble at least until it has more nuclear capability.

India's Prime Minister Nehru was a vivid figure, and sometimes a painful one for this country, but he's dead and his successors, like those of Khrushchev in Russia, are playing in a low key.

Except for some obstinacies by French President Charles de Gaulle, who was a constant irritant to Kennedy, the Western alliance has been placid. And this year there have been no major explosions in the Arab or African worlds.

Before there is a Vietnamese settlement, though, Johnson may face a decision far more critical than Kennedy encountered: How far to extend the war since it could mean a land war in Asia with Russia and Red China.

Asking a legislature to look two years ahead to map a spending program of more than $2.8 billion is an invitation to chaos.

We think a majority of legislators feel the same way, yet individual attempts to pass an annual sessions resolution, which would put the issue on the ballot, rarely get beyond the hearing stage.

THIS YEAR, eight such resolutions were offered, representing the thinking of more than a dozen lawmakers of both parties and both houses. One made it as far as the House Rules Committee but hasn't been heard of since.

The 106th Assembly, which has been ambling toward adjournment for seven months, could help justify its prolonged session by acting next week on this long overdue resolution.

Too Many Pep Pills

The Ohio Council for Education and the Ohio Education Association intend to put a proposal for a one-cent Ohio sales tax increase on the November ballot.

They claim the schools of Ohio need a $116 million increase over and above what the General Assembly is going to give them — a figure stall indefinite, by the way.

Their "plan for educational progress" — PEP — calls for this thumping increase in state educational support, they explain, and the only way to get it is through a 33⅓ per cent increase in the Ohio sales tax.

That is, of course, what a jump from 3 to 4 cents on the dollar amounts to — a 33⅓ per cent increase.

It would demolish the Rhodes administration's claim that Ohio is one of only a handful of states in which no new or increased taxes will be levied to finance state operations in this or immediately succeeding years.

WE THINK its chances of passage in a statewide vote are negligible.

We cannot understand why the two associations backing the proposal are willing to risk a turndown at the polls that would pull the rug from under them the next time they tell legislators they have strong popular support.

Even their own membership cannot be counted on to back a proposal that would cost one more cent on every dollar's worth of purchases subject to the Ohio sales tax.

It is unthinkable that any state administration would tackle a sales tax boost of this proportion for the general welfare of the state; it would be asking for sure defeat.

If the school people of Ohio believe they can whoop up enough support to put over a 33⅓ per cent increase for the sole benefit of schools, they have been taking too many of their own PEP pills.

PEOPLE will vote for school levies whose need is immediate and close at hand.

But it takes wild imagining to believe a majority of Ohioans next November would go for a one-third increase in the state sales tax for the benefit of schools in general.

U.S. Buys Snub In Pakistan

The president of Pakistan, Mohammed Ayub Khan, doesn't like Washington's aid to India, a neighbor with whom he has territorial quarrels, so he has decided to thumb his nose at us and strengthen his ties with the Communist countries.

Of course the fact that Pakistan has received some $5 billion in economic and military aid from the United States makes no difference.

AYUB'S position, in effect, is two-fold:

1. "Don't help anybody else in our neck of the woods that we don't like."

2. "What have you done for us today?"

Ayub says Pakistan is "looking for friends, not masters." Taking him at his word, it would seem that he is looking in the wrong direction if strengthening his country's independence is his goal.

No one who cuts into the game of Communist roulette is in any position to strengthen his independence.

But the really ludicrous part of Ayub's statement is that Pakistan is going to "reorder our priorities" in economic planning to reduce dependence on foreign aid.

THIS implies that Pakistan either has all the foreign aid it needs or could have run the course without any help in the first place.

We would suggest that the U.S. "reorder ITS priorities" and do everything in its power to accommodate Pakistan in its new economic development program.

Bomb Anniversary

By Richard Spong

At 8:15 Friday morning a swarm of doves will fly into the air over the Hiroshima Memorial Park and the Bell for Peace will begin its mournful toll. The ceremony will mark the exact 20th anniversary of the dropping by the Superfortress Enola Gay of the first atom bomb as a weapon.

The bomb which fell on Hiroshima packed more power than 20,000 tons of TNT. It wiped out 60 per cent of the city or 4.1 square miles. The Japanese said the dead were too numerous to count. Tokyo now lists some 61,000 dead, including those who died of illnesses subsequently attributed to the bomb. Other estimates run as high as 200,000.

Three days after the first atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima the weapon was declared obsolete. The blast at Nagasaki on Aug. 9, 1945, killed an estimated 73,884 persons. Brig. Gen. Thomas Farrell, atomic bomb chief in the Marianas, said: "The function of the bomb used at Nagasaki made the one used against Hiroshima obsolete. The type used against Hiroshima was discarded in favor of the Nagasaki type."

Now, 20 years after Hiroshima and Nagasaki, the three nuclear powers who matter obey a ban on atmospheric tests of the infinitely more powerful H-bombs. France plans a hydrogen bomb test next summer. Red China is scheduling third and fourth nuclear tests. And the disarmament technicians of 17 nations are assembled at Geneva in dubious discussions aimed at preventing the spread of nuclear capabilities still further.

The political chain reaction set off 20 years ago continues to shape world events. Hiroshima will mark the anniversary with a quiet ceremony before the simple arched memorial that commemorates the dead. A silent prayer that the bomb may never fall again will be offered.

Elsewhere in the city, presumably, the World Conference Against Nuclear Weapons will be noisier. Two years ago the Peking representative used the Communist-dominated sounding-board to accuse the Russians—in signing the nuclear test ban—of "selling out and surrendering to the United States."

The names of Hiroshima and Nagasaki are being invoked to protest against American military involvement in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic in an "Assembly of Unrepresented People" in Washington and Friday through Monday.

DEMONSTRATIONS—sure to be photogenic—are planned at the White House, the Washington Monument, and the House chamber. These "unrepresented" people are represented by The Catholic Worker, the Committee for Nonviolent Action, Student Peace Union, and War Registers League, all listed as sponsors.

The United States spent $2 billion and used 125,000 individuals in what President Truman later called "the greatest scientific gamble in history." Hiroshima guilt, after 20 years, is highly exploitable. Of the atomic decision Winston Churchill wrote most gravely: "The historical fact remains and must be judged in the aftertime."

Bugs In The Workers' Paradise

Battle Against The Reds Goes On

By Victor Riesel

GEORGETOWN, B. G.

On the "other side of town" in a little labor hall there was an emotional moment worth coverage by the world press and TV cameras linked to "Earlybird" intercontinental broadcast.

Victor Riesel

There was but one foreign correspondent there and he got a look into the future. This came when the prime minister of this land began making the welcoming speech to the labor movement's 12th national "congress." With the eloquence and literacy so characteristic of his people, Prime Minister Forbes Burnham spoke to the labor delegates as one of them. And well he could.

Standing up front he was the oratorical embodiment of what few busy Americans are aware. Here, as well as the world over, where burgeoning nations spawn new governments, the labor leader of yesterday is the prime minister of today.

This is significant, for there are still 31 British colonies soon to be independent. Each will have an independent government, a voice in the U.N. and each will be led by trade unionists.

PRIME MINISTER Burnham is president (now on leave) of the British Guiana Labor Union, "mother of all unions" here. Thus, when he arose and greeted the delegates to the national congress as "comrades," it was his right.

Thus he could say to them, "We have struck together, we have sung (Solidarity Forever) together, we have worked together . . . and if there is a change in government I will return to you. . . ."

And, in return, the chairman greeted the prime minister warmly and as a comrade. But the chairman reminded the prime minister frankly that the labor movement made him and could break him. And it could "destroy any politicians," the chairman gently advised.

It all was done with the underplay of British wit absorbed by the Guianese, governed so long by the English. But there was unity in the face of the enemy, the Mao-ist type opposition party which was ousted in an election only six months ago after holding the government for years.

The premier's party needs this unity to fight off the Communists' Operation Intimidation and the mysterious sabotage and arson. But most important here and to the people of North and South America, the premier's party (People's National Congress) needs skilled infighters and parliamentarians to outmaneuver the Communists in the unions and the parliament.

THE COMMUNISTS are aided by Havana, Moscow and Peking. Only a few weeks ago the Communists' leader and disciplinarian, Mrs. Janet R. Jagan, was in London on her way to see Mao-Tze tung in Peking. She had to return here because of serious problems inside her People's Progressive party.

To offset this Communist global operation inside Georgetown, the anti-Communist labor movement receives help from the American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD), which operates out of Washington. It's unique. AIFLD is a joint venture of American labor and American industry. Both sides have gotten together to neutralize the Communists' invisible invasion of the Caribbean and Central and South America.

Working with AIFLD's president, George Meany, are the top executives of such farsighted corporations as Pan American Airways, General Motors, Grace and Co., General Electric — to mention just a few of the 60 major U.S. firms which joined with the AFL-CIO to help develop democratic labor leaders and millions of rank and filers.

THUS THE GRADUATES of the Communist training schools in Cuba, Russia and mainland China are neutralized by the scholarly and practical AIFLD labor training center in Washington. One of AIFLD's graduates is the gentle, soft-voiced David R. Persaud, now president of the British Guiana Trades Union Council.

But the developing of a Dave Persaud into a skilled labor leader is only one of the joint labor - management ventures here and across the West Indies and Latin world. AIFLD, through guaranteed loans from the AFL-CIO, has a permanent headquarters here which is building a housing project for 580 families. This is the first of its kind in a land which the Communist regime let rot. But there is also the vast interior, much of it jungles no man has trod. And much of it with no roads at all.

For the Guianese deep in the interior — the people the Communists sought to drive into misery so the "imperialists" would be blamed — the AIFLD has a Cinvaram machine. It weighs 50 pounds. With shipment it costs $180. With the correct mixture of soil and water and the application of 200 pounds of pressure per square inch, Cinvaram makes strong bricks for swift housing construction.

With a little muscle and much heart and $180 worth of machinery — supplied by AIFLD—families can have little homes of their own to provide a feeling of dignity, and sufficiently sturdy to keep out the weather and Communist propaganda.

Thus the battle goes in far-off lands. Thus it can be won when men of good will stride shoulder to shoulder.

Viet Nam Stalemate

By David Lawrence

'Standstill Strategy' Tied To Johnson

The President has spoken, the newspapers on both sides of the Iron Curtain have spoken, and the critics inside the United States have had their say, too, but the crucial answer to what lies ahead in South east Asia still is unrevealed by Peking or Moscow.

David Lawrence

The Communists have used the last few days to analyze Mr. Johnson's remarks at his July 28 news conference and doubtless have come to some conclusion. It only can be guessed what they have decided but it would not be surprising if they became convinced that, despite all the brave words, the American government doesn't really mean to fight to the bitter end and now is desperately seeking a way to extricate itself from a frustrating situation.

While President Johnson talked eloquently about America's unwillingness to surrender or appease, his speech reflects a discomfiture over the demands of many Americans, inside and outside of politics, who feel the United States government should get out of Viet Nam as gracefully as possible no matter how prolonged the peace conferences may be.

AMERICAN CONSENTED, as did the United Nations, to join in just such an unsatisfactory ending of the Korean War. To this day nothing has been settled, and Korea still is divided. There isn't even a peace treaty in existence to replace the armistice agreement.

Is the United States government getting ready to do this again? If so, all the fine talk about a refusal to surrender will go for naught. The enemy knows that the American people are in the midst of a business boom, and assumes that the pleasures and luxuries of a "great-society-to-be" are considered more desirable than sending the boys to war or skyrocketing the expenditures of government so that a choice has to made of "guns or butter."

A similar illusion in the democratic countries about "peace at any price" led to World War I and then later to World War II.

The Red Chinese and the Soviets, although permitting their press to cry out loudly that America is bent on aggression, are likely within their private counsels, however, to conclude that Mr. Johnson's speech was a turning point in policy, for he spoke of a "measured" operation. This could be interpreted to mean limited forces which might do nothing decisive to checkmate the growing escalation of guerrilla warfare in Viet Nam.

THE PRESIDENT in his speech made no reference to the Russians, as, it is said, he didn't want to hurt their feelings and even counts on their help behind the scenes in restraining the Red Chinese. The only mention of Red China was in the following paragraph of Mr. Johnson's talk:

"Some citizens of South Viet Nam, at times with understandable grievances, have joined in the attack on their own government. But we must not let this mask the central fact that this is really war. It's guided by North Viet Nam and it is spurred by Communist China. Its goal is to conquer the South, to defeat American power, and to extend the Asiatic dominion of Communism."

But who sent technicians and supplies recently to build the missile bases in North Viet Nam? Obviously it was the Russians. The plain truth is that Red China and the Soviet Union today are engaged in a war against the United States, just as Moscow and Peking made war against the United Nations in Korea in 1950—the Soviets by furnishing munitions and supplies, as the Russian delegate to the U.N. openly boasted, and the Red Chinese by sending their big armies across the Yalu River to kill tens of thousands of American boys.

THE UNITED NATIONS responded to diplomatic pressure from Great Britain and France and refrained from bombing the supply lines across the Yalu as the Red Chinese invaded South Korea.

Today it looks as if the same thing is developing in Viet Nam, as American airmen have been cautioned to limit their bombing attacks instead of waging all-out war against the enemy bases and supply lines.

So the world may be facing another defeat for the principle of united action against Communist imperialism. The impression given by the Johnson administration last week—however unintentional such a meaning may have been—is that a decision has been made to get out of the mess some way, but not by fighting to a victorious conclusion.

Another stalemate, therefore, is in prospect. For, while professing no willingness to retreat, the administration has adopted a standstill strategy. Will the enemy now misconstrue this as weakness, and will this necessitate in the long run bigger and bigger military commitments anyway and greater sacrifices by American troops? Peking and Moscow alone know the answer.

Odds With Johnson

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It's been an odd year. But the odds have been with President Johnson, at home and abroad, and he's playing them hard.

With Kennedy it was the opposite. The Democrats' narrow squeak in the 1960 elections gave him a Congress where his party's majority was far less. So Johnson could get his programs through far easier than Kennedy could.

But in his best day, no matter the kind of Congress, Kennedy was no match for Johnson in endless energy and manipulation of the men in the Capitol.

Even in racial disturbances Johnson has had less trouble than Kennedy. But Johnson in his public statements has expressed more concern for Negroes than Kennedy or any president in history.

One of the unknowns of Johnson's presidency is how he will do with complicated and critical situations overseas since he is far less experienced in foreign affairs than domestic issues.

But abroad there have been no crises or complexities that needed his full attention, except for Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, which meant he could concentrate on them.

Ordinarily an American president in any given year could expect a hatful of grief with foreign problems. Kennedy's biggest individual problem was with Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Example: The Cuban missile crisis.

But after the treaty banning nuclear tests, in 1963, Khrushchev calmed down and American-Russian relations improved. Last October the Russians threw Khrushchev out.

His successors are gray compared with him, quieter, and apparently more concerned with problems in Russia and relations with Red China than the rest of the world, which is a big switch from Khrushchev.

Johnson is having little trouble there. And noisy Red China, although snarling at Russia and the United States with equal hostility, seems bent on keeping out of trouble at least until it has more nuclear capability.

India's Prime Minister Nehru was a vivid figure, and sometimes a painful one for this country, but he's dead and his successors, like those of Khrushchev in Russia, are playing in a low key.

Except for some obstinacies by French President Charles de Gaulle, who was a constant irritant to Kennedy, the Western alliance has been placid. And this year there have been no major explosions in the Arab or African worlds.

Before there is a Vietnamese settlement, though, Johnson may face a decision far more critical than Kennedy encountered: How far to extend the war since it could mean a land war in Asia with Russia and Red China.

Woman Cited After Mishap

A Lisbon woman was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol after an accident Monday night at 9:40 on Route 45, a half - mile north of Lisbon.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved cars operated by Delores Mae Baker, 42, of 262 Sherman St., Lisbon, and Melvin Eugene Bricker, 19, of Leetonia R. D. 1.

A city motorist was cited for failure to yield the right-o-way after an accident Monday at 5 p. m. at the intersection of the Y. & O. Rd. and Center St.

George Dana Rowley, 20, of 713 Garner Ave. halted for a stop sign and then pulled onto Route 267 into the path of a car driven by Donald F. Lones, 52, of MC 22, officers reported. No one was injured.

A compact driven by Clarence L. Crable, 17, of 607 Sanford St. was rammed in the rear by a car driven by Robert William Peters II, 22, of 558 W. Clark St., East Palestine, Monday night at 8:54 on Route 7, three miles south of Rogers.

Peters was pulling a boat and trailer with his car. Crable slowed to turn into a roadside park and Peters attempted to stop, but slid into the rear of the Crable vehicle, officers said.

Daniel Regis Cosley of Wellsville R. D. 1 escaped injury when his car spun around and rammed an embankment along Route 7, four and a half miles north of the intersection with Route 30 Monday at 7:05 a. m.

His 1956 sedan was demolished and he was cited for speed in excess of road and weather conditions, officers said.

Levy

permitting levies to be voted permanently was enacted because all school boards are trying to avoid the expense of conducting campaigns to renew levies.

"I made the motion to place the levy on the ballot and there was some delay indicating you people were trying to make up your minds on whether to even place the levy on the ballot," Smith said.

"I don't believe I have the right to vote something forever. That would be all cut and dried. People don't have any power any more."

After Woomer sided with Smith's objections, Blair said the resolution could state a time limit if the board desires.

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, vice president, corrected Smith's assertion that there was a delay in seconding his motion at the July 6 meeting, pointing out she did not hesitate to offer the second.

When Harry D. McConville, president, asked if the board wanted to accept the resolution, there was a long pause followed by more discussion before Mrs. Dunlop offered a motion that the resolution be drawn to include the 10-year limitation.

The board passed the original resolution at its July 6 meeting, but the life of the levy was not designated.

The resolution then was stricken from the record at the July 19 meeting after Smith and Woomer objected to the wording and indicated they would not accept the minutes of the meeting.

School officials said the solicitor had suggested the levy be placed on the ballot for "current expenses" in order to allow it to be voted for an indefinite period of time.

The board then could designate in its minutes that the money be used only for salaries.

If earmarked specifically for one purpose, it would have to be voted for a definite number of years. Blair told the board at the meeting.

If approved, the levy would go on the tax duplicate next January and yield approximately $180,000 annually.

Woman Cited After Mishap

A Lisbon woman was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol after an accident Monday night at 9:40 on Route 45, a half - mile north of Lisbon.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved cars operated by Delores Mae Baker, 42, of 262 Sherman St., Lisbon, and Melvin Eugene Bricker, 19, of Leetonia R. D. 1.

A city motorist was cited for failure to yield the right-o-way after an accident Monday at 5 p. m. at the intersection of the Y. & O. Rd. and Center St.

George Dana Rowley, 20, of 713 Garner Ave. halted for a stop sign and then pulled onto Route 267 into the path of a car driven by Donald F. Lones, 52, of MC 22, officers reported. No one was injured.

A compact driven by Clarence L. Crable, 17, of 607 Sanford St. was rammed in the rear by a car driven by Robert William Peters II, 22, of 558 W. Clark St., East Palestine, Monday night at 8:54 on Route 7, three miles south of Rogers.

Peters was pulling a boat and trailer with his car. Crable slowed to turn into a roadside park and Peters attempted to stop, but slid into the rear of the Crable vehicle, officers said.

Daniel Regis Cosley of Wellsville R. D. 1 escaped injury when his car spun around and rammed an embankment along Route 7, four and a half miles north of the intersection with Route 30 Monday at 7:05 a. m.

His 1956 sedan was demolished and he was cited for speed in excess of road and weather conditions, officers said.

Levy

permitting levies to be voted permanently was enacted because all school boards are trying to avoid the expense of conducting campaigns to renew levies.

"I made the motion to place the levy on the ballot and there was some delay indicating you people were trying to make up your minds on whether to even place the levy on the ballot," Smith said.

"I don't believe I have the right to vote something forever. That would be all cut and dried. People don't have any power any more."

After Woomer sided with Smith's objections, Blair said the resolution could state a time limit if the board desires.

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, vice president, corrected Smith's assertion that there was a delay in seconding his motion at the July 6 meeting, pointing out she did not hesitate to offer the second.

When Harry D. McConville, president, asked if the board wanted to accept the resolution, there was a long pause followed by more discussion before Mrs. Dunlop offered a motion that the resolution be drawn to include the 10-year limitation.

The board passed the original resolution at its July 6 meeting, but the life of the levy was not designated.

The resolution then was stricken from the record at the July 19 meeting after Smith and Woomer objected to the wording and indicated they would not accept the minutes of the meeting.

School officials said the solicitor had suggested the levy be placed on the ballot for "current expenses" in order to allow it to be voted for an indefinite period of time.

The board then could designate in its minutes that the money be used only for salaries.

If earmarked specifically for one purpose, it would have to be voted for a definite number of years. Blair told the board at the meeting.

If approved, the levy would go on the tax duplicate next January and yield approximately $180,000 annually.

More Candidates File With Deadline Near

Additional candidates for Liverpool and St. Clair Township trustee posts entered today as non-partisan candidates swamped the County Election Board with petitions for the Nov. 2 general election.

With the filing deadline Wednesday at 4 p.m., a total of 168 candidates have filed so far for nonpartisan posts in townships, school districts and villages under 2,500 population. There were 184 nonpartisan candidates in a similar election two years ago.

Samuel B. Webber, 565 Broadview Circle, became the fifth candidate for Liverpool Township trustee, while Robert E. Simms of Bell School Rd. entered for a St. Clair Township trustee post.

Three Salineville men filed for Village Council seats. They are Gillis D. Earl, Warren A. Dunlap and Dwayne Felton.

Other trustee candidates entering overnight are: Charles M. Hanna and Joe H. Goulds-berry, Center Township; Charles R. Ammon and Ralph S. Cusick, Madison Township trustee; Reuben C. Kocher, Knox Township; Ervin C. Miller, Fairfield Township; Russell William Davis, Salem Township; Leonard A. Ridzon, Unity Township, and Lloyd L. Criss, Hanover Township.

George W. Baillie Jr. and Robert F. Rice filed for four-year terms on the Salem Board of Education.

Entering previously for two seats on the Liverpool Township trustees were Guy Digman of LaCroft and Richard F. Sanford of Dixonville, incumbents; Wilbert P. Taylor of Price St. Ext. and Richard T. Judge of Allen St.

Webber, a former city councilman when he resided on Pleasant Heights, sought the Republican nomination for county commissioner at the 1964 primary.

He is a turn foreman in the cold strip department at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and is married and has a daughter, 18.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, he attended the University of Pittsburgh where he studied accounting. He is past president of the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club, a former member of the county GOP executive committee and past exalted ruler of Elks Lodge 258.

He is a former vestryman and junior warden of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Simms, making his first bid for elective office, will oppose Frank J. Mitcheson of Mud Ln. and Richard K. Mattern of Glenmoor, who filed earlier.

A metallurgical observer at Crucible, Simms attends Longs Run United Presbyterian Church and is a member of Steelworkers Local 1212 and the Masonic Lodge.

He is married and has sons, 12 and 3, and a daughter, 10.

Beauty Cites Racial Bias In Taking Her Title Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Gloria Jon charges her title as Miss New York State in the Miss Universe contest was taken away because she is a Negro. But the contest director says she broke her contract and race was not a factor.

The argument broke out Monday night and about the only thing the disputants agreed on is that there will be no Miss New York State for this year.

Miss Jon, 24, who lives in Manhattan, won the state contest May 20. She was the first Negro to win the title.

She was among 15 finalists in the Miss USA competition to pick a winner for the Miss Universe title last month at Miami Beach.

Ted Marshall, contest director who owns the New York franchise in the Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe contests, said "there's nothing racial here at all." He confirmed the title had been taken from Miss Jon, but said "it's strictly contractual."

In a letter to the 5-foot-5 beauty, he told her:

"You have not fulfilled, nor seemed to have the spirit to fulfill the obligations you took on when you personally signed the official entry form of Miss Universe and the official contract of the New York State Beauty Pageant."

Marshall said Miss Jon had failed to show up for personal appearances he had arranged. He also said she violated her contract by appearing in advertisements for a hair preparation.

In a news conference Monday night in the offices of her attorney, Alfred J. Hemlock, Miss Jon said she had publicized the hair product, but she did not use the title "Miss New York State" in her appearances.

"She never refused to appear anywhere," Hemlock said.

Miss Jon, a former Playboy Club "bunny" who weighs 113 pounds with measurements of 36-22-35, claimed Marshall told her he was surprised that a Negro girl had won the contest.

"I feel that under the circumstances Mr. Marshall had led me to believe he's prejudiced against me for some reason, I don't know why," Miss Jon said. "It has thrown all my plans out of whack."

Swimming Lessons A Must For Children

Since death by drowning is the second most common type of accidental fatality between the ages of five and fifteen, why should not the elementary school make swimming lessons a part of its physical education curriculum? But very few elementary schools have swimming pools, and the building on them might be unduly expensive. However, many a junior or senior high school with a swimming pool is within walking distance of the elementary school.

Dr. Garry Myers

In some places school buses would be available. Swimming classes could be scheduled when such pools are not in use.

—:—

WE MIGHT also ask why junior and senior high schools with swimming pools don't make swimming lessons compulsary. Aren't these pools usually limited in use to sports for students who choose to use them?

The Red Cross and other community - service agencies often provide swimming lessons, especially in the smaller areas. With water recreation growing more and more popular, parents should take responsibility for having their children learn to swim, being sure they have adequate instruction and safety protection.

More and more swimming pools which are free or inexpensive, are becoming available in small and larger communities. It's not enough to get our children to these places and just let them learn to swim in their own way. We need to make sure that they have at a reasonable early age adequate instruction in swimming.

CONSIDER the wholesome fun afforded to youngsters at the various public and private swimming places. Many a child with so much time on his hands during the long summer months can find hours and hours of wholesome fun at a nearby beach or swimming pool.

All of us need to be community - minded and provide adequate swimming opportunities for as many children as possible. We need to make sure the swimming places are safely supervised and are staffed with competent instructors.

Considering our own children, we need to be aware of the dangers to those who can't swim or barely can do so. Farm or city children during summer often will go along with the gang to the "Ole Swimming Hole." Some of them meet with tragedies. Not only may they face danger of drowning but they may enter polluted waters.

AT FAMILY picnics put on by churches and other organizations during summer there may not be adequate supervision at the nearby swimming places.

There may not be also enough alertness by the leaders of these picnics nor by the parents of the children.

A source of peril to many children who are not good swimmers, even when their parents are with them, is their temptation "to go beyond the ropes." A part of such problems is the lack of obedience in some children.

How terrible when a parent sitting on the bank calls in vain to a youngster to go no farther. Even the camp counselor, taking a group of youngsters swimming, may find that some of them have little regard for his rules or commands. Basic obedience is a first essential for learning to swim.

My bulletin, "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Loans For Higher Education Due Boost Under State Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Student loans for higher education are due for a boost under a three-ply state program getting under way this month.

Banks already have made about 10,000 loans exceeding $8 million since the state-guarantee was begun three years ago.

Voters last May gave their approval by adopting Issue No. 1 to dispel a constitutional cloud over the program.

A new law effective last June entitles savings and loan associations and Ohio credit unions to participate in the program supervised by the Ohio Higher Education Assistance Commission.

To publicize the loan program, the commission has scheduled a series of five seminars starting Aug. 26 in Cuyahoga Falls.

The others will be in Columbus Sept. 2, Findlay Sept. 9, Athens Sept. 16 and Sharonville near Cincinnati Sept. 23.

Participants are the Ohio Bankers Association, the Ohio Savings and Loan League and the Ohio Credit Union League.

Commission Executive Director B. H. Maddox says that, although the loan program has been quite successful, some banker resistance has been encountered.

He said the commission receives several letters a week from loan applicants complaining that they have been rebuffed.

Turndown reasons advanced by banks range from poor loan risks to "not much profit."

Of the 550 banks in Ohio, about 260 have made loans, which the commission guarantees up to 80 per cent. Only the counties of Ashland, Monroe, Paulding and Lake are unrepresented.

But only one bank in Cleveland and one in Youngstown have participated, records show. Counties with outstanding records include Montgomery, Hamilton, Franklin and Richland.

Approximately 80 per cent of those obtaining loans are attending Ohio institutions. Those in out-of-state schools number about 280.

Loans are made for each school year. When borrowers graduate or leave school, their loans are consolidated with a schedule of monthly payments to start within four months.

Minimum monthly payments range from $20 to $65 depending on the total borrowed. Simple interest of 5.5 per cent a year is charged.

Annual loan limitations are $500 for freshmen, $750 for sophomores and juniors and $1,000 for seniors. Graduate students can obtain additional amounts to a maximum of $5,000.

Beauty Cites Racial Bias In Taking Her Title Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Gloria Jon charges her title as Miss New York State in the Miss Universe contest was taken away because she is a Negro. But the contest director says she broke her contract and race was not a factor.

The argument broke out Monday night and about the only thing the disputants agreed on is that there will be no Miss New York State for this year.

Miss Jon, 24, who lives in Manhattan, won the state contest May 20. She was the first Negro to win the title.

She was among 15 finalists in the Miss USA competition to pick a winner for the Miss Universe title last month at Miami Beach.

Ted Marshall, contest director who owns the New York franchise in the Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe contests, said "there's nothing racial here at all." He confirmed the title had been taken from Miss Jon, but said "it's strictly contractual."

In a letter to the 5-foot-5 beauty, he told her:

"You have not fulfilled, nor seemed to have the spirit to fulfill the obligations you took on when you personally signed the official entry form of Miss Universe and the official contract of the New York State Beauty Pageant."

Marshall said Miss Jon had failed to show up for personal appearances he had arranged. He also said she violated her contract by appearing in advertisements for a hair preparation.

In a news conference Monday night in the offices of her attorney, Alfred J. Hemlock, Miss Jon said she had publicized the hair product, but she did not use the title "Miss New York State" in her appearances.

"She never refused to appear anywhere," Hemlock said.

Miss Jon, a former Playboy Club "bunny" who weighs 113 pounds with measurements of 36-22-35, claimed Marshall told her he was surprised that a Negro girl had won the contest.

"I feel that under the circumstances Mr. Marshall had led me to believe he's prejudiced against me for some reason, I don't know why," Miss Jon said. "It has thrown all my plans out of whack."

Swimming Lessons A Must For Children

Since death by drowning is the second most common type of accidental fatality between the ages of five and fifteen, why should not the elementary school make swimming lessons a part of its physical education curriculum? But very few elementary schools have swimming pools, and the building on them might be unduly expensive. However, many a junior or senior high school with a swimming pool is within walking distance of the elementary school.

Dr. Garry Myers

In some places school buses would be available. Swimming classes could be scheduled when such pools are not in use.

—:—

WE MIGHT also ask why junior and senior high schools with swimming pools don't make swimming lessons compulsary. Aren't these pools usually limited in use to sports for students who choose to use them?

The Red Cross and other community - service agencies often provide swimming lessons, especially in the smaller areas. With water recreation growing more and more popular, parents should take responsibility for having their children learn to swim, being sure they have adequate instruction and safety protection.

More and more swimming pools which are free or inexpensive, are becoming available in small and larger communities. It's not enough to get our children to these places and just let them learn to swim in their own way. We need to make sure that they have at a reasonable early age adequate instruction in swimming.

CONSIDER the wholesome fun afforded to youngsters at the various public and private swimming places. Many a child with so much time on his hands during the long summer months can find hours and hours of wholesome fun at a nearby beach or swimming pool.

All of us need to be community - minded and provide adequate swimming opportunities for as many children as possible. We need to make sure the swimming places are safely supervised and are staffed with competent instructors.

Considering our own children, we need to be aware of the dangers to those who can't swim or barely can do so. Farm or city children during summer often will go along with the gang to the "Ole Swimming Hole." Some of them meet with tragedies. Not only may they face danger of drowning but they may enter polluted waters.

AT FAMILY picnics put on by churches and other organizations during summer there may not be adequate supervision at the nearby swimming places.

There may not be also enough alertness by the leaders of these picnics nor by the parents of the children.

A source of peril to many children who are not good swimmers, even when their parents are with them, is their temptation "to go beyond the ropes." A part of such problems is the lack of obedience in some children.

How terrible when a parent sitting on the bank calls in vain to a youngster to go no farther. Even the camp counselor, taking a group of youngsters swimming, may find that some of them have little regard for his rules or commands. Basic obedience is a first essential for learning to swim.

My bulletin, "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Court Order Issued Over Milk Permit

The East Liverpool Board of Health has been directed by Common Pleas Court at Lisbon to issue a milk permit to Fairmont Foods Co. of Parkersburg or provide an explanation of its refusal to issue a permit by Aug. 12.

The Parkersburg (W. Va.) milk concern this morning filed a petition for a writ of mandamus against the City of East Liverpool and the health board, claiming the board "wrongfully and arbitrarily" refused to issue a milk permit.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard issued an alternative writ, directing the board to issue a permit or show cause by Aug. 12 why the permit has been refused.

In the firm's petition, filed by Atty. Jackman Vodrey of East Liverpool, it is pointed out the concern's facilities at Athens were inspected by a city sanitarian in June and received approval as meeting city standards.

Furthermore, it is claimed the firm has paid its necessary fees for such a permit.

The Board of Health at a meeting last Thursday rejected the request for the permit, voting over the objections of Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman, with the members explaining they believed the city has an excessive number of milk distributors.

The Fairmont petition claims "this action is an attempt to regulate and-or restrain trade or commerce in milk in East Liverpool and is an abuse of the powers invested in the board."

'Vets Day' Aired By Legion Post 4

The Veterans Day program was discussed at a meeting of American Legion Post 4 Monday night in the Siff Building.

Ray Cunningham, commander, urged members to pay their 1966 dues as soon as possible.

It was reported that Russ Chadwick and Howard Parsons, post members who are patients at Veterans Hospital, Pittsburgh, are recovering.

Refreshments were served by Emmett Blake and committee. The post will meet Monday night in the Siff Building.

Lausche, Proxmire Have Verbal Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, had an verbal exchange with Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., on the Senate floor Monday during debate on the hotly disputed proposed constitutional amendment on legislative reapportionment.

Sen. Lausche, in a speech, urged passage of the amendment, saying "all we are asking is the right to have the people of the states determine how their legislature will be apportioned."

Temporary Repairs Are Set For Bridge

Plans have been made for temporary repairs to a township bridge on an abandoned section of the Old Steubenville Pike which had been closed last week because of damage over a period of time.

The span will be covered by water when the Highlandtown Lake project is finished so the temporary action was decided on at a meeting Monday of county commissioners, Washington Township trustees and County Engineer John Ursu.

Installation of a huge culvert required under the repair program is expected to take about a week.

Court Order Issued Over Milk Permit

The East Liverpool Board of Health has been directed by Common Pleas Court at Lisbon to issue a milk permit to Fairmont Foods Co. of Parkersburg or provide an explanation of its refusal to issue a permit by Aug. 12.

The Parkersburg (W. Va.) milk concern this morning filed a petition for a writ of mandamus against the City of East Liverpool and the health board, claiming the board "wrongfully and arbitrarily" refused to issue a milk permit.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard issued an alternative writ, directing the board to issue a permit or show cause by Aug. 12 why the permit has been refused.

In the firm's petition, filed by Atty. Jackman Vodrey of East Liverpool, it is pointed out the concern's facilities at Athens were inspected by a city sanitarian in June and received approval as meeting city standards.

Furthermore, it is claimed the firm has paid its necessary fees for such a permit.

The Board of Health at a meeting last Thursday rejected the request for the permit, voting over the objections of Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman, with the members explaining they believed the city has an excessive number of milk distributors.

The Fairmont petition claims "this action is an attempt to regulate and-or restrain trade or commerce in milk in East Liverpool and is an abuse of the powers invested in the board."

Rhodes Signs Welfare Bill; Changes Due

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A sweeping reorganization of public welfare in Ohio was signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes Monday. Main feature of the reorganization is the elimination of all city welfare authority and the transfer of control of six major welfare programs from the state to counties.

Programs covered are poor relief and aid for the aged, the blind, the disabled, dependent children and dependent children of the unemployed.

"This administration - sponsored reorganization will bring about greater efficiency and simplification of administration and financing," the governor said in signing the measure. He added that provisions of the law will permit the state to take full advantage of the new federal health care program.

State Welfare Director Denver White said the new program will result in a reduction of 117 welfare offices around the state.

Among provisions is a uniform system of financing. Counties will be required to pay about 6 per cent of the cost, the state 44 per cent and the federal government 50 per cent.

Some other bills signed Monday provide for:

A county or adjoining counties to form a regional transit authority.

Municipalities to issue industrial development bonds.

Community improvement corporations to act as agents of municipalities in industrial development transactions.

Sale of mineral rights reserved to the state.

Regulation of firms taking second mortgages of less than $15,000 as security for loans.

Final release of paroled prisoners at discretion of the Adult Parole Authority.

Minors to be served in the same manner as adults in court traffic cases.

Regulation of milk producers, haulers and plants.

Appeal by municipalities in cases involving ordinance violations.

Allowing the tax appeals board to grant one-year extension for placing reassessed property values on tax lists and duplicates.

Persons held in custody without a warrant to contact attorney or others.

Finance director to determine preservation or destruction of state and political subdivision records.

An increase from 65 to 150 horsepower for watercraft motors on water covering at least 3,500 acres and from 50 to 65 horsepower on Tappan Lake.

Raising dental license renewal fees from $5 to $11 annually.

Use of data processing procedure in selection of court jurors.

Erection of only uniform traffic control devices on public roads and streets.

First offense of issuing a check without sufficient funds to be a misdemeanor instead of a felony.

Noncharter cities to create a division of traffic engineering.

Clerk of courts to inform county auditor of property transfer for highway purposes.

Revised procedures in requests for separate finding of facts by courts.

Conveyance of former Cincinnati and Lake Erie Railroad Co. land in Montgomery County.

Transfer of state land to city of Cincinnati.

Conveyance of state land in Marion Township, Allen County, to Delphos.

School Board Accepts Deshler's Resignation

The resignation of Charles Deshler as a school employe was accepted Monday night by the Board of Education.

The action came two weeks after the board had approved the appointment of Harold West, a custodial employe, as school attendance officer, a post Deshler had held for many years.

Board members had no comment after Supt. Paul H. Blair said he had received a letter of resignation from Deshler and recommended that it be accepted.

The board approved the appointment of Mrs. Betty Lee Baum as an elementary teacher for the new term.

It awarded a contract for the blacktopping of the area between Westgate School and the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way to H. & H. Contractors on its low bid of $10,875.

The only other bidder was Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry, which asked $12,100.

Questioned by Harry D. McConville, president, as to what benefits would be derived from the blacktopping, Blair said it would increase the play area, provide better parking places at football games and eliminate dust which filters into classrooms in warm weather when windows are open.

The board also approved the rental of the general purpose room at Westgate to the Westside Baptist Church, a new organization, on Sunday mornings for church services.

The fee will be $15 plus custodial fees each Sunday.

The board also granted permission for Roberta, Stephen and Jeffrey Sinclair, children of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Sinclair, 3301 Harding Ave., to attend city schools during the coming term. The parents have agreed to pay the tuition, Blair said.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, reported another advance totaling $109,560 had been received on real estate taxes. The final settlement is expected in mid-September, Miss Liebschner said she was advised by County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

The board voted to send a letter of appreciation to Bell thanking him for the prompt distribution of tax monies.

Miss Liebschner said there is a balance of $256,407 in all school funds. The amounts in the various funds are: $86,291, general; $91,460, bond retirement; $8,780, lunch room; $594, improvement; $186, night schools; $7,108, Title III; $156, uniform supplies; $63,280, repair and maintenance and a deficit of $1,450, MDTA. The school building fund has a balance of $54,220, she reported.

Board Will Ask Action On Shadyside Project

The Board of Education agreed Monday night to send letters to City Council and county commissioners urging action be taken to improve Shadyside Ave. after hearing a four - man neighborhood group assail conditions on the highway.

The board unanimously approved a motion by Samuel W. Brown to send the letters asking that remedial steps be taken "in the very near future."

Lawrence M. Creel served as spokesman for the delegation, which said it had been asked to seek the board's support.

Photographs were shown the board illustrating conditions on the road, with Creel pointing out it is hazardous for school children. He indicated that parents might refuse to allow their children to ride school buses on the highway.

Harry D. McConville, board president, said the board is willing to cooperate, but has no authority over the road.

Supt. Paul H. Blair pointed out it is the parents' responsibility to get their children to school if they refuse to allow them to ride the buses. The board is required to enforce the state compulsory school attendance law, he added.

Creel said the delegation will meet Aug. 16 with City Council and then report to a neighborhood meeting on Aug. 18.

In other discussions, John R. Woomer, chairman of the building committee, urged the board investigate the possibility of providing turnaround space at Taft School for school buses.

Woomer said he was puzzled why school buses discharged Taft students on St. Clair Ave., a block or more from the school, but was told by Blair that there wasn't sufficient room to turn the vehicles around.

He also suggested the board give some thought to what disposition it will make of schools it will abandon when the building program is completed. He said he was thinking particularly of the neighborhood elementary buildings, adding that he has received some inquiries.

Health Service To Propose Ways To Clean Up Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Public Health Service will propose ways for cleaning up Lake Erie and its tributaries at a federal water pollution conference opening here today.

The government recommendations, based on a recently completed two-year study, were to be presented at the morning session to those invited to the meeting by Gov. James A. Rhodes. Originally scheduled as a one-day session, the conference was expected to run over into Wednesday.

The report, part of which was disclosed in Washington last week, asserts that there is cause for alarm.

It details conditions in Lake Erie and pollution coming from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan sources. The report identifies the pollutants in Lake Erie as sewage and industrial wastes, oils, silts, sediment, floating solids and nutrients (phosphates and nitrates).

Last Friday Gov. Rhodes decided to open the meeting to anyone who wishes to speak. Invitations were sent by the State Water Pollution Control Board to some 60 industries and municipalities.

Representatives from Cleveland, Cuyahoga Falls, Solon, Ashtabula, and Lorain were expected to present statements.

U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik, Cleveland Democrat, was among those scheduled to speak. He said in a statement Monday night.

"It seems to me that uniform acceptable practices ought to be established and followed in all parts of the country and with respect to all of the water sources."

The congressman warned, "The entire economic future of this community is critically threatened by the disastrous destruction of this community's resources."

Six Cleveland industries agreed to make statements at the session: Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), Republic Steel Corp., U.S. Steel Corp., Sherwin-Williams Co., Harshaw Chemical Co., and E. I. Dupont Denemours & Co.

The companies discharge water into the Cuyahoga River, and state authorities have termed their water treatment methods inadequate.

Rhodes Signs Welfare Bill; Changes Due

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A sweeping reorganization of public welfare in Ohio was signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes Monday. Main feature of the reorganization is the elimination of all city welfare authority and the transfer of control of six major welfare programs from the state to counties.

Programs covered are poor relief and aid for the aged, the blind, the disabled, dependent children and dependent children of the unemployed.

"This administration - sponsored reorganization will bring about greater efficiency and simplification of administration and financing," the governor said in signing the measure. He added that provisions of the law will permit the state to take full advantage of the new federal health care program.

State Welfare Director Denver White said the new program will result in a reduction of 117 welfare offices around the state.

Among provisions is a uniform system of financing. Counties will be required to pay about 6 per cent of the cost, the state 44 per cent and the federal government 50 per cent.

Some other bills signed Monday provide for:

School Board Accepts Deshler's Resignation

The resignation of Charles Deshler as a school employe was accepted Monday night by the Board of Education.

The action came two weeks after the board had approved the appointment of Harold West, a custodial employe, as school attendance officer, a post Deshler had held for many years.

Board members had no comment after Supt. Paul H. Blair said he had received a letter of resignation from Deshler and recommended that it be accepted.

The board approved the appointment of Mrs. Betty Lee Baum as an elementary teacher for the new term.

It awarded a contract for the blacktopping of the area between Westgate School and the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way to H. & H. Contractors on its low bid of $10,875.

The only other bidder was Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry, which asked $12,100.

Questioned by Harry D. McConville, president, as to what benefits would be derived from the blacktopping, Blair said it would increase the play area, provide better parking places at football games and eliminate dust which filters into classrooms in warm weather when windows are open.

The board also approved the rental of the general purpose room at Westgate to the Westside Baptist Church, a new organization, on Sunday mornings for church services.

The fee will be $15 plus custodial fees each Sunday.

The board also granted permission for Roberta, Stephen and Jeffrey Sinclair, children of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Sinclair, 3301 Harding Ave., to attend city schools during the coming term. The parents have agreed to pay the tuition, Blair said.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk - treasurer, reported another advance totaling $109,560 had been received on real estate taxes. The final settlement is expected in mid-September, Miss Liebschner said she was advised by County Auditor Kenneth Bell.

The board voted to send a letter of appreciation to Bell thanking him for the prompt distribution of tax monies.

Miss Liebschner said there is a balance of $256,407 in all school funds. The amounts in the various funds are: $86,291, general; $91,460, bond retirement; $8,780, lunch room; $594, improvement; $186, night schools; $7,108, Title III; $156, uniform supplies; $63,280, repair and maintenance and a deficit of $1,450, MDTA. The school building fund has a balance of $54,220, she reported.

Board Will Ask Action On Shadyside Project

The Board of Education agreed Monday night to send letters to City Council and county commissioners urging action be taken to improve Shadyside Ave. after hearing a four - man neighborhood group assail conditions on the highway.

The board unanimously approved a motion by Samuel W. Brown to send the letters asking that remedial steps be taken "in the very near future."

Lawrence M. Creel served as spokesman for the delegation, which said it had been asked to seek the board's support.

Photographs were shown the board illustrating conditions on the road, with Creel pointing out it is hazardous for school children. He indicated that parents might refuse to allow their children to ride school buses on the highway.

Harry D. McConville, board president, said the board is willing to cooperate, but has no authority over the road.

Supt. Paul H. Blair pointed out it is the parents' responsibility to get their children to school if they refuse to allow them to ride the buses. The board is required to enforce the state compulsory school attendance law, he added.

Creel said the delegation will meet Aug. 16 with City Council and then report to a neighborhood meeting on Aug. 18.

In other discussions, John R. Woomer, chairman of the building committee, urged the board investigate the possibility of providing turnaround space at Taft School for school buses.

Woomer said he was puzzled why school buses discharged Taft students on St. Clair Ave., a block or more from the school, but was told by Blair that there wasn't sufficient room to turn the vehicles around.

He also suggested the board give some thought to what disposition it will make of schools it will abandon when the building program is completed. He said he was thinking particularly of the neighborhood elementary buildings, adding that he has received some inquiries.

Health Service To Propose Ways To Clean Up Lake Erie

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Public Health Service will propose ways for cleaning up Lake Erie and its tributaries at a federal water pollution conference opening here today.

The government recommendations, based on a recently completed two-year study, were to be presented at the morning session to those invited to the meeting by Gov. James A. Rhodes. Originally scheduled as a one-day session, the conference was expected to run over into Wednesday.

The report, part of which was disclosed in Washington last week, asserts that there is cause for alarm.

It details conditions in Lake Erie and pollution coming from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan sources. The report identifies the pollutants in Lake Erie as sewage and industrial wastes, oils, silts, sediment, floating solids and nutrients (phosphates and nitrates).

Last Friday Gov. Rhodes decided to open the meeting to anyone who wishes to speak. Invitations were sent by the State Water Pollution Control Board to some 60 industries and municipalities.

Representatives from Cleveland, Cuyahoga Falls, Solon, Ashtabula, and Lorain were expected to present statements.

U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik, Cleveland Democrat, was among those scheduled to speak. He said in a statement Monday night.

"It seems to me that uniform acceptable practices ought to be established and followed in all parts of the country and with respect to all of the water sources."

The congressman warned, "The entire economic future of this community is critically threatened by the disastrous destruction of this community's resources."

Six Cleveland industries agreed to make statements at the session: Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), Republic Steel Corp., U.S. Steel Corp., Sherwin-Williams Co., Harshaw Chemical Co., and E. I. Dupont Denemours & Co.

The companies discharge water into the Cuyahoga River, and state authorities have termed their water treatment methods inadequate.

Medicare And Social Security

Who Realizes Benefits--And How

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

Born before 1903? You're assured of Medicare benefits even if you've never paid a cent in Social Security taxes.

However, those born in 1903 or later must have credit for a certain amount of work under Social Security to qualify for health benefits upon reaching age 65.

Second In A Series

This working period ranges from 1½ to 10 years. Generally, the older you are the less Social Security coverage you'll need. Also, women need fewer "credits" than men.

SOME PEOPLE are excluded from Medicare — chiefly federal workers and their dependents who are enrolled in the health plan established for them by the Federal Employes Health Benefits Act of 1959.

Also excluded: (1) aliens who haven't been admitted to the United States for permanent residence; (2) other aliens who haven't lived in the United States continuously for the five years just before filing a Medicare claim; (3) members of subversive organizations, and (4) persons convicted of such high crimes as sabotage, espionage and sedition.

But if a federal employe or an alien who would otherwise be excluded happens — because of some previous employment — to be entitled to Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, he's eligible for Medicare.

MEDICARE benefits will start July 1, 1966. At the same time, extra health benefits become available to persons who buy supplemental insurance through the U.S. government.

This supplemental health insurance will be offered to anyone 65 or older who is eligible for basic Medicare benefits. Also, to federal employes who can't qualify for the basic benefits.

Under the Social Security law, the so-called Kerr-Mills program offers needy persons past 65 free health benefits even if not on relief.

But these have nothing to do with previous employment under Social Security, and each state sets its own rules. This program is to be expanded after this year, chiefly to include needy children under 21 and their parents. (More about that in a later article.)

To draw cash benefits, credit for a certain amount of work under Social Security is required.

Social Security credits are called "quarters of coverage." A quarter is any three-month period beginning Jan. 1, April 1, July 1 or Oct. 1. Ordinarily, a worker who is paid at least $50 in such a period gets credit for one quarter of coverage.

IF YOU work for yourself, you get credit for a full four quarters a year provided your net earnings are at least $400. Otherwise, no credit.

To Get Medicare

The table below shows how many "quarters of coverage" are needed to qualify for Medicare benefits (chiefly hospital and nursing - home care) under Social Security.

Year Of Birth	Quarters Needed Men-Women
1902 or earlier	0 0
1903	6 6
1904	9 9
1905	12 12
1906	15 15
1907	18 18
1908	21 19
1909 or later	Same as for retirement benefits

Self - employment has been covered by Social Security since Jan. 1, 1951; most other work, since Jan. 1, 1937.

Once you add up 40 quarters of coverage — equal to 10 years of work under Social Security —you are "fully insured." With minor exceptions, this guarantees you will get some monthly benefit when you retire. Or if you should die, your eligible survivors (widow, children, dependent parents) will receive monthly checks.

Men born after 1925 and women after 1928 need 40 quarters to be "fully insured." For older workers, the requirement is lower. The minimum is six quarters — for men born before 1893 and women born before 1896.

The new provision applies specifically to retirees and widows 72 or older. They may qualify for benefits with as few as three quarters of coverage.

FOR DISABILITY benefits, the rules again differ. Generally, a person who is so disabled he can't work may draw such benefits provided the disability is expected to last at least 12 months (or to result in death) and he has Social Security credt for at least five years of working during the 10 years preceding disability. For some persons blinded before age 31, as little as a year and a half of Social Security credits may now be enough to make them eligible.

Where there are young children, survivors' benefits are payable if a worker was "currently insured" even though not "fully insured" when he died.

To be currently insured, a worker must have had six quarters of coverage — 1½ years— during the three years preceding death.

If some of this leaves you a bit bewildered, don't worry. We'll detail each benefit as we go along, so you'll know exactly what you're entitled to and when.

Mistakes Or No Mistakes, Ohio Adds To Highways

By JOHN F. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "We get hundreds of letters every week from people telling us how to build a highway," says design executive Victor Stump.

"We make mistakes. Everybody does."

Few "mistakes" show up in concrete. But when they do, everybody can see them.

"It costs taxpayers money. It's embarrassing," says Stump, administrative assistant to R. E. Schultz, head of design and construction in the Ohio Highway Department.

STILL STUMP a veteran civil engineer, figures the state highway department does a good job.

So does the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads which must okay every inch of interstate and other highways it helps finance. Last fiscal year, for example, the bureau gave its approvals to nearly $500 million worth of Ohio projects — including any mistakes.

"Ohio is one of the leaders in getting its interstate system done," says William E. Reed, division engineer of the Bureau of Public Roads.

Gov. James A. Rhodes says he is proud of Ohio highways, that they mean jobs and progress for the state.

But it's hard to convince a driver moving from a freeway at 70 miles per hour right into an interchange traffic jam. Or a stranger looking into a maze of confusing signs.

DESIGNING a highway is more than just drawing a line on a map, although that has been tried, but not by the Highway Department.

About 16 months ago, the Ohio Development Department announced its idea of a superroad to help economically sick southeast Ohio.

"They drew a line on a map and called it the Appalachian Way and stirred up a lot of trouble," says one highway engineer.

Traditionally, a highway or road begins on the basis of need.

In the case of the interstate highway system, a 41,000-mile national network to be completed by 1972, the federal government selected the general path and set minimum standards.

State highway departments took over from there. Planning surveys estimated the amount of traffic which would use the superhighways and their accesses. Then the Ohio Highway Department began pinning down location, interchanges, number of lanes, etc.

The Division of Programming was next, then design. Some of the design is done by private consulting firms, meeting state and federal requirements.

THESE consultants are usually called in to handle access roads and some interchanges. The department says it does not have the manpower for all this work. All the designing, however, is reviewed by the central office in columbus.

Federal law holds the Ohio Highway Department responsible for locating interstate highways, advertising for bids, awarding contracts, supervising construction and — a problem still to be reckoned with — mountain roads.

Ohio now has 703 miles of interstate highway open to traffic, 667 miles of which has been accepted by the federal government. The unaccepted mileage will have to be brought up to interstate standards or the federal government won't pay.

By 1972, the state is scheduled to have 1,529 miles of interstate highways. All but the 207 miles of the Ohio Turnpike will be free.

FEDERAL law says the interstate roads shall be for traffic moving at 70 miles an hour on flat land. In cities, the minimum is 50 m.p.h. Elsewhere, the design is aimed at speeds of 70 to 50 m.p.h. "depending on the nature of terrain and development."

The problems—and the "mistakes"—seem to arise most frequently in cities, where maneuvering space for design is limited and rights - of-way are expensive.

There are other problems, too:

—Imposing a new traffic network on an old system of roads, in many cases not designed for modern highway traffic.

—Building in patches. An interchange may be completed before the highway it serves is ready. Stump says, "I can think of one instance when we designed an interchange when a highway didn't exist. This was caught on the drawing board."

Financing. The state budgets on a two - year basis. The federal government pays when construction is accepted. This, says the highway department, makes it hard to plan so things work out together.

—Lots of personnel, more than 9,000 of them, or 9,000 chances for human error.

An example:

The Highway Department plans to rebuild an unbanked curved ramp on the north end of the Inner Belt Freeway that funnels traffic to Memorial Shoreway in Cleveland. Several tractor-trailer trucks have turned over trying to make the turn.

Charles M. Yurick of the Highway Department says original plans called for the ramp, now an 11-degree curve, to be much wider. These plans, he adds, were dropped at the insistence of Cleveland officials who said the original design would interfere with expansion of runways at nearby Burke Lakefront Airport.

IN SHORT, the original design was proper but had to be compromised.

Present plans call for banking the curve three-eights of an inch per foot.

Cleveland Commissioner of Traffic Engineering Robert Kelly says banking the curve may cost $150,000 to $1 million.

In Columbus, six lanes of traffic on the Goodale Interchange were squeezed into two. One lane was blocked with barrels to try to curtail the jams and wrecks.

Other problems have occurred with U. S. 27 and Interstate 74 near Cincinnati, at Interstate 75 in Toledo near the Willys Jeep plant and at interchanges along Interstate 80 near Cleveland.

H. S. Myers of programming says when interstate planning began "if there was something adequate we used it. Then we could come along and bring it up to interstate standards later." He and the other members of the Highway Department are confident of the final product.

But, he adds, sometimes "you make bum guesses."

THESE consultants are usually called in to handle access roads and some interchanges. The department says it does not have the manpower for all this work. All the designing, however, is reviewed by the central office in columbus.

Federal law holds the Ohio Highway Department responsible for locating interstate highways, advertising for bids, awarding contracts, supervising construction and — a problem still to be reckoned with — mountain roads.

Ohio now has 703 miles of interstate highway open to traffic, 667 miles of which has been accepted by the federal government. The unaccepted mileage will have to be brought up to interstate standards or the federal government won't pay.

By 1972, the state is scheduled to have 1,529 miles of interstate highways. All but the 207 miles of the Ohio Turnpike will be free.

FEDERAL law says the interstate roads shall be for traffic moving at 70 miles an hour on flat land. In cities, the minimum is 50 m.p.h. Elsewhere, the design is aimed at speeds of 70 to 50 m.p.h. "depending on the nature of terrain and development."

The problems—and the "mistakes"—seem to arise most frequently in cities, where maneuvering space for design is limited and rights - of-way are expensive.

There are other problems, too:

—Imposing a new traffic network on an old system of roads, in many cases not designed for modern highway traffic.

—Building in patches. An interchange may be completed before the highway it serves is ready. Stump says, "I can think of one instance when we designed an interchange when a highway didn't exist. This was caught on the drawing board."

Financing. The state budgets on a two - year basis. The federal government pays when construction is accepted. This, says the highway department, makes it hard to plan so things work out together.

—Lots of personnel, more than 9,000 of them, or 9,000 chances for human error.

An example:

The Highway Department plans to rebuild an unbanked curved ramp on the north end of the Inner Belt Freeway that funnels traffic to Memorial Shoreway in Cleveland. Several tractor-trailer trucks have turned over trying to make the turn.

Charles M. Yurick of the Highway Department says original plans called for the ramp, now an 11-degree curve, to be much wider. These plans, he adds, were dropped at the insistence of Cleveland officials who said the original design would interfere with expansion of runways at nearby Burke Lakefront Airport.

IN SHORT, the original design was proper but had to be compromised.

Present plans call for banking the curve three-eights of an inch per foot.

Cleveland Commissioner of Traffic Engineering Robert Kelly says banking the curve may cost $150,000 to $1 million.

In Columbus, six lanes of traffic on the Goodale Interchange were squeezed into two. One lane was blocked with barrels to try to curtail the jams and wrecks.

Other problems have occurred with U. S. 27 and Interstate 74 near Cincinnati, at Interstate 75 in Toledo near the Willys Jeep plant and at interchanges along Interstate 80 near Cleveland.

H. S. Myers of programming says when interstate planning began "if there was something adequate we used it. Then we could come along and bring it up to interstate standards later." He and the other members of the Highway Department are confident of the final product.

But, he adds, sometimes "you make bum guesses."

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Underwater Television

NEW YORK — The nation's TV audiences this month will see live pictures transmitted from a Navy underseas laboratory positioned 250 feet below the surface of the Pacific Ocean.

Richard Doan

Pictures of Comdr. Scott Carpenter, the astronaut, and nine men spending 30 days under water with him in a Sealab 2 project will be televised on the three national TV networks during the Gemini-Titan 5 eight-day space flight tentatively scheduled for blast-off Aug. 19.

Details of the planned TV pickup from deep inside the ocean a mile off LaJolla, Calif., were disclosed by NBC News, which will handle a pooled operation for the networks.

THE UNDERWATER project will involve experiments in communication between the Sealab and the orbiting G-T 5 spacecraft.

Carpenter and his Navy crew also will conduct tests outside the Sealab such as determining problems in raising a plane from that depth.

A major purpose of the 30-day stay in the ocean depths will be, of course, to determine how well man can live and work for extended periods in such an environment.

The Sealab will have four unmanned, fixed-position TV cameras aboard, two inside, two on the outside. An NBC spokesman said that the telecasts from the Sealab will include voice reports from its crew.

TELEVISION is often accused of slighting the preferences of upper income, better educated viewers in favor of programming appealing to lower tastes.

When adults in the higher economic brackets turn on their TV sets, what do they like best in network evening programs?

According to a recent survey, the favorite show among 40 per cent of these people is NBC's "Huntley-Brinkley Report."

The most popular entertainment is NBC's "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color," named as "liked" by 39 per cent of these watchers.

TV-Q, the most widely quoted "qualitative" survey used by the industry, has issued a June-July report which finds that the most popular evening programs among adults in families with incomes of $10,000 or more per year — in terms not of what they actually looked at, but what they say they prefer—are: Huntley-Brinkley, Walt Disney, "Bonanza," Lawrence Welk, Walter Cronkite news, Saturday night movies, Dick Van Dyke, "Bewitched," "Telephone Hour," Red Skelton.

IN THE NIELSEN reports, presumably reflecting the total audience's preferences, the Huntley - Brinkley and Cronkite newscasts are a long way from the top 10. "Telephone Hour" is even further away.

The TV-Q findings indicate that, except for a propensity for news and the "Telephone Hour" musicals, upper income adults aren't so different from their poorer neighbors in what they like — or claim they like — on TV.

McDonough New Resources Chief In West Virginia

McDonough, 51, of Parkersburg, was sworn in by Secretary of State Robert D. Bailey in ceremonies, with Gov. Hulett Smith looking on.

McDonough had to resign as state Democratic national committeeman to accept the position, succeeding Warden Lane.

Bailey also issued the oath of office to several other recent appointments of the governor.

Dr. James Hupp was sworn in for another term as director of Archives and History, along with two members of the Board of Probation and Parole, J. Holt Byrne and John Bronson.

Three members ofthe Employment Security Board of Review were issued the oath of office: Jewell McClanahan, Emmett Stine and Joseph Blagg.

County Group Selected For 4-H Exchange

Nine Columbiana County 4-H youths will participate in the second phase of an interstate exchange Saturday when they travel to Cayuga County, New York.

Recently, 10 older 4-H members and two adults from Cayuga County visited junior 4-H leaders in Columbiana County. They shared in the everyday life of 12 families throughout the county and took part in local 4-H activities, including district selection days.

The program has been planned and carried out by a committee of junior leaders, with assistance from parents and 4-H advisers. It is patterned after the international farm youth exchange program, where young people from other countries exchange visits, and is designed to accomplish the same objective on an interstate basis.

The 4-H'ers going to Cayuga County are Sally Converse, Leetonia; Marilyn Copeland, Hanoverton; Lynn Hawkins, New Waterford; Chuck Glass, Wellsville; Diane Baker, Lisbon; Jack James, Wellsville; Sue Serafy, Wellsville; Carolyn Fitzsimmons, New Waterford, and Sally Lindsay, New Waterford.

The advisers accompanying them to New York are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker, Lisbon, and Mrs. E. J. Serafy, Wellsville.

The most popular entertainment is NBC's "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color," named as "liked" by 39 per cent of these watchers.

TV-Q, the most widely quoted "qualitative" survey used by the industry, has issued a June-July report which finds that the most popular evening programs among adults in families with incomes of $10,000 or more per year — in terms not of what they actually looked at, but what they say they prefer—are: Huntley-Brinkley, Walt Disney, "Bonanza," Lawrence Welk, Walter Cronkite news, Saturday night movies, Dick Van Dyke, "Bewitched," "Telephone Hour," Red Skelton.

IN THE NIELSEN reports, presumably reflecting the total audience's preferences, the Huntley - Brinkley and Cronkite newscasts are a long way from the top 10. "Telephone Hour" is even further away.

The TV-Q findings indicate that, except for a propensity for news and the "Telephone Hour" musicals, upper income adults aren't so different from their poorer neighbors in what they like — or claim they like — on TV.

County Group Selected For 4-H Exchange

Nine Columbiana County 4-H youths will participate in the second phase of an interstate exchange Saturday when they travel to Cayuga County, New York.

Recently, 10 older 4-H members and two adults from Cayuga County visited junior 4-H leaders in Columbiana County. They shared in the everyday life of 12 families throughout the county and took part in local 4-H activities, including district selection days.

The program has been planned and carried out by a committee of junior leaders, with assistance from parents and 4-H advisers. It is patterned after the international farm youth exchange program, where young people from other countries exchange visits, and is designed to accomplish the same objective on an interstate basis.

The 4-H'ers going to Cayuga County are Sally Converse, Leetonia; Marilyn Copeland, Hanoverton; Lynn Hawkins, New Waterford; Chuck Glass, Wellsville; Diane Baker, Lisbon; Jack James, Wellsville; Sue Serafy, Wellsville; Carolyn Fitzsimmons, New Waterford, and Sally Lindsay, New Waterford.

The advisers accompanying them to New York are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker, Lisbon, and Mrs. E. J. Serafy, Wellsville.

Pearl Selected Airman Of Month

AIC Ronald C. Pearl, 303rd Munitions Maintenance Squadron, recently was presented a $25 U.S. Savings Bond and a scroll attesting to his selection as England's June "Airman of the Month."

The munitions specialist was nominated to the honor by Maj. Clarence N. English, 303rd MMS commander.

At the conclusion of his letter nominating Pearl, Maj. English said, "Airman Pearl exemplifies the type of individual that the United States Air Force is striving to develop and retain in service. I feel honored having the opportunity to recommend him for this honor."

Pearl entered the Air Force in September 1959 and received his basic training at Lackland, Tex. He arrived in England in July 1964 after spending an 18-month tour of duty at the Misawa base in Japan. He returns to Misawa in August for three additional months.

A native of Chester, he is married to the former Miss Carol A. DeLong, also of Chester. The Pearls reside in Alexandria with their two daughters, Gwinn and Julie.

Local Pony League Stars Wrap Up District Championship

Little Leaguers Bow To Akron

Drop 10-Inning Thriller, 8-7, At North Canton

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool American League All-Stars reached the end of the Little League tournament trail when Akron South squeezed out an 8-7 victory in a 10-inning thriller Monday night at North Canton.

The East Liverpool nine battled its way one step from the state semi-finals and registered another District 4 championship before bowing out.

Monday's contest turned out to be a thriller from start to finish and a well played game featured by defensive plays on the part of both squads.

While the game had its share of heroes in the see-saw affair, Akron's first baseman and cleanup hitter Jeff Crabtree had the last word when he slammed a two - out home run over the centerfield fence for the game winning blow in the last of the tenth inning.

CRABTREE'S deciding blow came after relief hurler Jim Lynch had quickly retired the first two men. Lynch had relieved John Cunningham who toiled nine innings but under Little League rules had to be removed after the ninth frame.

Following a scoreless first inning, East Liverpool was spotted in a three run lead in the second frame when hard hitting first baseman Don Plant rode a pitch over the right centerfield fence with two mates on base as Randy McVay had singled and Bob Deem gained first base after being hit by a pitched ball.

THE LEAD was shortlived, Akron South tied the contest in the last of the third by putting together three hits, a walk and an error.

Akron South came right back to take the lead again in its half of the fourth on two singles and an error but Clete Payne knotted the score at 5-5 when he walked and scored on two passed balls and a wild pitch.

CUNNINGHAM settled down for the next four innings and at one stretch retired 11 batters in a row. Meanwhile Akron had changed pitchers in the sixth and Don Buckey, the new hurler, held East Liverpool scoreless through the eighth inning.

In the ninth frame, it appeared East Liverpool was on its way to the state semi-finals when Mike Lockhart ripped a pitch over the right centerfield fence for a home run with Plant on base giving the locals a 7-5 lead.

Akron wouldn't quit and after one out in the last of the ninth, Rick Gromley singled to set the stage for pinchhitter Jim Adams.

ADAMS came to bat with one strike on him but connected for a clutch home run to tie the game once more at 7-7.

East Liverpool went down in order in the tenth inning and Crabtree's blow ended the contest in the Akron half of the tenth.

Both teams played tight defensive ball although East Liverpool was charged with three errors while Akron played errorless ball.

OUTSTANDING in the field for the locals were McVay who handled the position flawlessly and Dean Horger who made several fine grabs of line drives in leftfield.

Cunningham gave up eight hits over nine innings but only fanned one. Buckey was the winning hurler while Lynch was checked with the loss.

East Liverpool collected eight hits with Mike Lockhart's three safeties leading the way. McVay and Plant had two each.

Twins Lead By 6

Bragan Yells Spitter

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

A dip here and a wiggle there and everybody starts pointing fingers. It's getting so that an innocent little baseball can't have any fun anymore.

In San Francisco's 4-2 loss at Milwaukee Monday night, for example, a Gaylord Perry pitch dipped under Ken Johnson's bat and Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan, who's becoming an expert on the subject, screamed spitter.

Detroit's Denny McLain didn't believe teammates Dave Wickersham and Hank Aguirre who complained after Sunday's doubleheader in Chicago that the balls were cold and heavy. Then McLain pitched Monday night in a 2-0 White Sox victory and announced solemnly afterwards, "The balls were cold and heavy."

Bragan, who said that his pitchers got away with throwing 75-to-80 spitters in a 9-2 loss against the Giants Friday night, accused Perry of throwing a super-spitter.

"He was throwing those spitters," said Bragan. "One of them rolled to the infield and Jo Jo (White, Braves' third base coach) picked it up. There was a spot of slick-um on it. Jo Jo said the ball was almost sticking to his finger."

Bragan theorized that Perry may have had benzoin, a resin compound used to treat blisters, in his glove and was spitting into it to make it adhere to the ball.

Perry denied the charge "Bragan might say anything. You know how he is," the pitcher said.

Johnson, who pitched a six-hitter for his 12th victory and was at bat when White picked up the ball, was convinced that Perry was using a super-illegal pitch

Pinch hitter Jesse Gonder delivered a bases-loaded double, driving in three runs as Milwaukee scored all its runs in the fourth inning. Willie Mays hit his 25th home run for the Giants.

American League President Joe Cronin dispatched his umpire-in-chief, Cal Hubbard, on an inspection tour to determine at what temperatures baseballs were being stored following complaints from several Tiger players that the White Sox were providing frozen baseballs in Sunday's doubleheader.

Umpire Ed Hurley admitted the baseballs were cold but dismissed the matter, saying they might have been stored near an air conditioner.

Pete Ward's two-run single in the first inning produced both Chicago runs against McLain and Hoyt Wilhelm protected the victory for Gary Peters with two innings of airtight relief.

Minnesota lengthened its American League lead to six games with a 6-5 victory over Baltimore on Jimme Hall's pinch homer in the ninth.

It was a costly victory though. Twins' slugger Harmon Killebrew suffered a dislocated left elbow in a baseline collision and will be sidelined for 10 days.

Relief pitcher Don Dennis worked out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the ninth as St. Louis edged Los Angeles 6-5. The defeat trimmed the Dodgers' National League lead to one game over idle Cincinnati. Ted Savage's seventh inning double triggered the Cardinals' winning rally.

'Impossible To Hit'

Tigers Claim White Sox Using Baseballs On Ice

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Cal Hubbard, the American League's umpire-in-chief, sat in the umpires' room at Comiskey Park Monday night mulling over the cold baseball dispute and admitting little could be done about the matter.

Some of the Detroit Tigers leveled charges against the Chicago White Sox after Sunday's doubleheader that the Sox were providing frozen balls which were impossible to hit.

Joe Cronin, president of the league, said such charges should be investigated and then dropped the dispute into Hubbard's lap.

Charlie Dressen, manager of the Tigers, said he made no accusations and only went by what the umpires told him that the balls were cold and damp.

Umpire Ed Hurley said the balls were cold and damp but anyone accusing anybody of doctoring the balls would be crazy to do so without catching someone red-handed.

Other members of the Tigers said "nonsense" and attributed the cold balls to atmospheric conditions.

Al Lopez, manager of the White Sox, dismissed the whole thing as being ridiculous so far as the White Sox would do anything deliberate and then admitted the balls were cold.

White Sox General Manager Ed Short thought about it and then said, "Our park is only a few feet above sea level so when we get rain or humid weather everything gets damp. If we let matters stand, the balls will be wet. If we air-condition the room where they are kept, the balls will get cold."

Only last weekend in Detroit the same two teams played a four-game series which produced 53 runs and 19 home runs. A five-game set in Chicago this weekend produced 16 runs, 36 hits and no ball traveled any farther than two bases.

Cronin, reached by telephone in Boston, said, "There's nothing in the regulations to stipulate where the balls are to be kept. The only rule is that they be delivered to the umpires' room an hour before the game. Charges of this kind are nothing new. Accusations have been made before that baseballs were kept in the 'heater' or on 'ice'.

"It seems to me that no matter what the condition of the ball, it would be fair for one team as the other, thereby no occasion for trickery."

Anyway, when it was all over, the White Sox won Monday night 2-0 on Pete Ward's two-run single in the first inning and the combined pitching of Gary Peters and reliever Hoyt Wilhelm. The victory gave the Sox the series 3-2.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Jimmie Hall, Twins, hit pinch home run in ninth inning that gave Minnesota a 6-5 victory over Baltimore and increased Twins American League lead to six games.

PITCHING — Ken Johnson, Braves, held San Francisco to six hits in pitching Milwaukee to a 4-2 victory for his 12th triumph of the season.

275 Tee Off In Ohio Links Play At Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A field of 275 pay-to-play golfers tee off on two courses at Tam O'Shant here today in the 33rd Ohio Public Links Golf Tournament. The 72-hole competition continues through Friday.

Par for both the Hills Course and the Dales Course is 70, and in spite of wet and windy weather the par figure took a beating in a tuneup round Monday.

Don Nist, 30-year-old Canton oil salesman, shot a 65 and teamed with Ed Capri, president of the Ohio Publinx Association, to win the best ball honors with 63 on the Dales Course. Nist was the tournament's 1957 winner.

Over on the Hills Course, Bill Santor of Youngstown shot a 67 and teamed with Dave McMullen of Poland to capture best ball honors with 66.

Joe Lazor of Cleveland, defending champion, shot 73 on the Hills Course, and Lalu Sabotin of Warren, the 1963 titlist, matched par 70.

The field will be cut to the low 120 scores and ties after 36 holes and to the low 60 and ties for the final 18.

The first Ohio Public Links Tournament was held on the Tam O'Shanter course here in 1930 and won by Scotty Reston, now a New York Times columnist.

U.S. Net Team Tops Mexico In Zone Play

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — America's proud and powerful Davis Cup team, with Mexico conquered and the American Zone Championship secured, turned its attention to Spain today and the Interzone Round there in Mid-August.

Local Pony League Stars Wrap Up District Championship

Little Leaguers Bow To Akron

Drop 10-Inning Thriller, 8-7, At North Canton

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool American League All-Stars reached the end of the Little League tournament trail when Akron South squeezed out an 8-7 victory in a 10-inning thriller Monday night at North Canton.

The East Liverpool nine battled its way one step from the state semi-finals and registered another District 4 championship before bowing out.

Monday's contest turned out to be a thriller from start to finish and a well played game featured by defensive plays on the part of both squads.

While the game had its share of heroes in the see-saw affair, Akron's first baseman and cleanup hitter Jeff Crabtree had the last word when he slammed a two - out home run over the centerfield fence for the game winning blow in the last of the tenth inning.

CRABTREE'S deciding blow came after relief hurler Jim Lynch had quickly retired the first two men. Lynch had relieved John Cunningham who toiled nine innings but under Little League rules had to be removed after the ninth frame.

Following a scoreless first inning, East Liverpool was spotted in a three run lead in the second frame when hard hitting first baseman Don Plant rode a pitch over the right centerfield fence with two mates on base as Randy McVay had singled and Bob Deem gained first base after being hit by a pitched ball.

THE LEAD was shortlived, Akron South tied the contest in the last of the third by putting together three hits, a walk and an error.

Akron South came right back to take the lead again in its half of the fourth on two singles and an error but Clete Payne knotted the score at 5-5 when he walked and scored on two passed balls and a wild pitch.

CUNNINGHAM settled down for the next four innings and at one stretch retired 11 batters in a row. Meanwhile Akron had changed pitchers in the sixth and Don Buckey, the new hurler, held East Liverpool scoreless through the eighth inning.

In the ninth frame, it appeared East Liverpool was on its way to the state semi-finals when Mike Lockhart ripped a pitch over the right centerfield fence for a home run with Plant on base giving the locals a 7-5 lead.

Akron wouldn't quit and after one out in the last of the ninth, Rick Gromley singled to set the stage for pinchhitter Jim Adams.

ADAMS came to bat with one strike on him but connected for a clutch home run to tie the game once more at 7-7.

East Liverpool went down in order in the tenth inning and Crabtree's blow ended the contest in the Akron half of the tenth.

Both teams played tight defensive ball although East Liverpool was charged with three errors while Akron played errorless ball.

OUTSTANDING in the field for the locals were McVay who handled the position flawlessly and Dean Horger who made several fine grabs of line drives in leftfield.

Cunningham gave up eight hits over nine innings but only fanned one. Buckey was the winning hurler while Lynch was checked with the loss.

East Liverpool collected eight hits with Mike Lockhart's three safeties leading the way. McVay and Plant had two each.

"It seems to me that no matter what the condition of the ball, it would be fair for one team as the other, thereby no occasion for trickery."

Anyway, when it was all over, the White Sox won Monday night 2-0 on Pete Ward's two-run single in the first inning and the combined pitching of Gary Peters and reliever Hoyt Wilhelm. The victory gave the Sox the series 3-2.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Jimmie Hall, Twins, hit pinch home run in ninth inning that gave Minnesota a 6-5 victory over Baltimore and increased Twins American League lead to six games.

PITCHING — Ken Johnson, Braves, held San Francisco to six hits in pitching Milwaukee to a 4-2 victory for his 12th triumph of the season.

Bragan Yells Spitter

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

A dip here and a wiggle there and everybody starts pointing fingers. It's getting so that an innocent little baseball can't have any fun anymore.

In San Francisco's 4-2 loss at Milwaukee Monday night, for example, a Gaylord Perry pitch dipped under Ken Johnson's bat and Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan, who's becoming an expert on the subject, screamed spitter.

Detroit's Denny McLain didn't believe teammates Dave Wickersham and Hank Aguirre who complained after Sunday's doubleheader in Chicago that the balls were cold and heavy. Then McLain pitched Monday night in a 2-0 White Sox victory and announced solemnly afterwards, "The balls were cold and heavy."

Bragan, who said that his pitchers got away with throwing 75-to-80 spitters in a 9-2 loss against the Giants Friday night, accused Perry of throwing a super-spitter.

"He was throwing those spitters," said Bragan. "One of them rolled to the infield and Jo Jo (White, Braves' third base coach) picked it up. There was a spot of slick-um on it. Jo Jo said the ball was almost sticking to his finger."

Bragan theorized that Perry may have had benzoin, a resin compound used to treat blisters, in his glove and was spitting into it to make it adhere to the ball.

Perry denied the charge "Bragan might say anything. You know how he is," the pitcher said.

Johnson, who pitched a six-hitter for his 12th victory and was at bat when White picked up the ball, was convinced that Perry was using a super-illegal pitch

Pinch hitter Jesse Gonder delivered a bases-loaded double, driving in three runs as Milwaukee scored all its runs in the fourth inning. Willie Mays hit his 25th home run for the Giants.

American League President Joe Cronin dispatched his umpire-in-chief, Cal Hubbard, on an inspection tour to determine at what temperatures baseballs were being stored following complaints from several Tiger players that the White Sox were providing frozen baseballs in Sunday's doubleheader.

Umpire Ed Hurley admitted the baseballs were cold but dismissed the matter, saying they might have been stored near an air conditioner.

Pete Ward's two-run single in the first inning produced both Chicago runs against McLain and Hoyt Wilhelm protected the victory for Gary Peters with two innings of airtight relief.

Minnesota lengthened its American League lead to six games with a 6-5 victory over Baltimore on Jimme Hall's pinch homer in the ninth.

It was a costly victory though. Twins' slugger Harmon Killebrew suffered a dislocated left elbow in a baseline collision and will be sidelined for 10 days.

Relief pitcher Don Dennis worked out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the ninth as St. Louis edged Los Angeles 6-5. The defeat trimmed the Dodgers' National League lead to one game over idle Cincinnati. Ted Savage's seventh inning double triggered the Cardinals' winning rally.

275 Tee Off In Ohio Links Play At Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A field of 275 pay-to-play golfers tee off on two courses at Tam O'Shant here today in the 33rd Ohio Public Links Golf Tournament. The 72-hole competition continues through Friday.

Par for both the Hills Course and the Dales Course is 70, and in spite of wet and windy weather the par figure took a beating in a tuneup round Monday.

Don Nist, 30-year-old Canton oil salesman, shot a 65 and teamed with Ed Capri, president of the Ohio Publinx Association, to win the best ball honors with 63 on the Dales Course. Nist was the tournament's 1957 winner.

Over on the Hills Course, Bill Santor of Youngstown shot a 67 and teamed with Dave McMullen of Poland to capture best ball honors with 66.

Joe Lazor of Cleveland, defending champion, shot 73 on the Hills Course, and Lalu Sabotin of Warren, the 1963 titlist, matched par 70.

The field will be cut to the low 120 scores and ties after 36 holes and to the low 60 and ties for the final 18.

The first Ohio Public Links Tournament was held on the Tam O'Shanter course here in 1930 and won by Scotty Reston, now a New York Times columnist.

U.S. Net Team Tops Mexico In Zone Play

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — America's proud and powerful Davis Cup team, with Mexico conquered and the American Zone Championship secured, turned its attention to Spain today and the Interzone Round there in Mid-August.

George MacCall, the U.S team captain, said his charges were due to arrive in Barcelona at noon Wednesday to begin workouts for the clash with the Spanish Cup team.

Bolstered by another sparkling effort from Arthur Ashe, the Americans rolled over Mexico Monday in the final singles matches to record a 4-1 triumph. A Mexican doubles victory Sunday prevented a clean sweep.

Ashe sealed the verdict for the United States by turning back Antonio Palafox in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4, principally on his fiery service.

Some Baseball Draft Choices Get Off To Good Starts Around Minors

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Holtzman, a fourth round choice who was preceded by 60 selectees in baseball's free agent draft of high school and college players, could be the biggest bargain of them all.

Scouts back from a tour of the minor leagues, speak glowingly of Holtzman and regard the 20-year-old graduate of the University of Illinois as a tremendous big league pitching prospect.

Signed by the Chicago Cubs, Holtzman was recently promoted to Wenatchee of the Class A Northwest League after winning his first four starts at Treasure Valley in the Pioneer League. The youngster was beaten 2-1 in his first Wenatchee start but he struck out 11, walked only two and allowed four hits.

Joe Coleman Jr., Washington's No. 1 draft choice who was signed to a reported $65,000 bonus, had a rough initiation in the Carolina League. He lost his first four starts at Burlington, three by one-run margins. Despite his defeats, Coleman has pitched three complete games and allowed but eight earned runs in the four outings.

Hal Jeffcoat Jr., son of the former major league pitcher, lost a toughie in his debut with Magic Valley of the Pioneer League. A San Francisco Giant draftee, Jeffcoat Jr., gave up three hits to Treasure Valley, fanning 11, but lost 1-0.

Shortstop Wayne Garrett, drafted by the Milwaukee Braves, made a spectacular debut with West Palm Beach in the Florida Rookie League, rapping four hits in his first four times at bat. Wayne is the younger brother of Adrian and Jimmy Garrett, both Braves' farmhands.

Ken Boswell, a 19-year-old second baseman drafted by the New York Mets out of Sam Houston State College, is hitting around .400 at Auburn in the New York-Penn League. The youngster hit safely in his first 18 games as a professional.

Louis Howell, son of Dixie Howell, former National League catcher with Brooklyn and Pittsburgh, is making his father happy with his play at Johnson City, a Yankee farm club in the rookie Appalachian League. He recently hammered two home runs and batted in nine runs in one game. Like his father, young Howell is a catcher.

Norman Miller, a third baseman drafted by the Houston Astros, may have set an all-time minor league record recently when he drove in at least one run in 12 consecutive games at Amarillo in the Texas League.

Les Rohr, the Mets' No. 1 draft choice, is paying dividends on his reported 60,000 bonus. The 19-year-old left-hander from Billings, Mont., teamed up with another pitcher to hurl a shutout in his debut at Williamsport in the Eastern League. In his latest start, Rohr defeated .Reading 4-3 and collaborated with reliever Bunky Warren to fan 18 batters.

Harmon Out At Least 10 Days

Killebrew Latest To Join Twins Long Hospital List

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota Twins' Manager Sam Mele stood in the middle of the dressing room, pondering what moves to make to patch up his injury-besieged American League leaders.

He stared blankly at the floor and spoke quietly — like one would in a hospital. Mele is practically running a hospital.

He had just learned that his big slugger, Harmon Killebrew, would be sidelined at least 10 days — and more likely longer — with a dislocated left elbow as a result of a basepath collision with Baltimore's Russ Snyder in the Twins' 6-5 victory over the Orioles Monday.

"I've never been with a team that was so hard hit by injuries," Mele said.

"Nobody in our league has been hit this year like we have, and that includes the Yankees.

"We lose two starting pitchers, we've got two others pitching with ailments that would sideline a lot of guys, Bob Allison cracked his wrist, Earl Battey dislocated a finger, and now this."

Mele watched Killebrew grimace his way out of his uniform and said: "You just don't lose a guy like Killebrew, even for a little while, and not feel it. He's our leader. And he usually starts hitting the long ball about this time of year. I can't put into words what he means to our ball club."

The quiet Killebrew, who returned to the clubhouse to shower and dress after Xrays of his arm were taken at a hospital, said:

"This team will keep fighting. We've got a lot of guys who can hit the ball."

Killebrew had his left arm placed in an inflatable plastic splint to keep it rigid and cut down on the pain until the soreness subsides.

Killebrew, who has 22 home runs, 70 runs batted in and is hitting .278, was reaching for a wide throw to first base by third baseman Rich Rollins in the sixth inning when he was hurt.

His left arm was extended over the baseline, about four feet toward home plate. Snyder, who had dropped a bunt down the third base line, hit Killebrew's arm and bent it back so far the lower part of Harmon's arm was totally off-set from the upper part.

Collier Will Use Veteran Lineup In Star Contest

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier will field an experienced lineup of Cleveland Browns against the College All-Stars in Chicago Friday night.

Collier has yet to name his starters, but he indicated Monday that he will depend on veterans who carried the team to the National Football League championship last season

Any lineup changes probably would result from seasoned players being sidelined by injuries.

The Browns' offensive unit mostly likely will include quarterback Frank Ryan directing a backfield with Jim Brown and Ernie Green. Gary Collins and Paul Warfield will be the flankers; John Morrow at center; Dick Schafrath and Monte Clark at tackle, and Gene Hickerson and John Wooten, at guard.

Lawyers, Central Meet In Playoff Game

Some Baseball Draft Choices Get Off To Good Starts Around Minors

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Holtzman, a fourth round choice who was preceded by 60 selectees in baseball's free agent draft of high school and college players, could be the biggest bargain of them all.

Scouts back from a tour of the minor leagues, speak glowingly of Holtzman and regard the 20-year-old graduate of the University of Illinois as a tremendous big league pitching prospect.

Signed by the Chicago Cubs, Holtzman was recently promoted to Wenatchee of the Class A Northwest League after winning his first four starts at Treasure Valley in the Pioneer League. The youngster was beaten 2-1 in his first Wenatchee start but he struck out 11, walked only two and allowed four hits.

Joe Coleman Jr., Washington's No. 1 draft choice who was signed to a reported $65,000 bonus, had a rough initiation in the Carolina League. He lost his first four starts at Burlington, three by one-run margins. Despite his defeats, Coleman has pitched three complete games and allowed but eight earned runs in the four outings.

Hal Jeffcoat Jr., son of the former major league pitcher, lost a toughie in his debut with Magic Valley of the Pioneer League. A San Francisco Giant draftee, Jeffcoat Jr., gave up three hits to Treasure Valley, fanning 11, but lost 1-0.

Shortstop Wayne Garrett, drafted by the Milwaukee Braves, made a spectacular debut with West Palm Beach in the Florida Rookie League, rapping four hits in his first four times at bat. Wayne is the younger brother of Adrian and Jimmy Garrett, both Braves' farmhands.

Ken Boswell, a 19-year-old second baseman drafted by the New York Mets out of Sam Houston State College, is hitting around .400 at Auburn in the New York-Penn League. The youngster hit safely in his first 18 games as a professional.

Louis Howell, son of Dixie Howell, former National League catcher with Brooklyn and Pittsburgh, is making his father happy with his play at Johnson City, a Yankee farm club in the rookie Appalachian League. He recently hammered two home runs and batted in nine runs in one game. Like his father, young Howell is a catcher.

Norman Miller, a third baseman drafted by the Houston Astros, may have set an all-time minor league record recently when he drove in at least one rur in 12 consecutive games at Amarillo in the Texas League.

Les Rohr, the Mets' No. 1 draft choice, is paying dividends on his reported 60,000 bonus. The 19-year-old left-hander from Billings, Mont., teamed up with another pitcher to hurl a shutout in his debut at Williamsport in the Eastern League. In his latest start, Rohr defeated Reading 4-3 and collaborated with reliever Bunky Warren to fan 18 batters.

Harmon Out At Least 10 Days

Killebrew Latest To Join Twins Long Hospital List

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota Twins' Manager Sam Mele stood in the middle of the dressing room, pondering what moves to make to patch up his injury-besieged American League leaders.

He stared blankly at the floor and spoke quietly — like one would in a hospital. Mele is practically running a hospital.

He had just learned that his big slugger, Harmon Killebrew, would be sidelined at least 10 days — and more likely longer — with a dislocated left elbow as a result of a basepath collision with Baltimore's Russ Snyder in the Twins' 6-5 victory over the Orioles Monday.

"I've never been with a team that was so hard hit by injuries," Mele said.

"Nobody in our league has been hit this year like we have, and that includes the Yankees.

"We lose two starting pitchers, we've got two others pitching with ailments that would sideline a lot of guys, Bob Allison cracked his wrist, Earl Battey dislocated a finger, and now this."

Mele watched Killebrew grimace his way out of his uniform and said: "You just don't lose a guy like Killebrew, even for a little while, and not feel it. He's our leader. And he usually starts hitting the long ball about this time of year. I can't put into words what he means to our ball club."

The quiet Killebrew, who returned to the clubhouse to shower and dress after Xrays of his arm were taken at a hospital, said:

"This team will keep fighting. We've got a lot of guys who can hit the ball."

Killebrew had his left arm placed in an inflatable plastic splint to keep it rigid and cut down on the pain until the soreness subsides.

Killebrew, who has 22 home runs, 70 runs batted in and is hitting .278, was reaching for a wide throw to first base by third baseman Rich Rollins in the sixth inning when he was hurt.

His left arm was extended over the baseline, about four feet toward home plate. Snyder, who had dropped a bunt down the third base line, hit Killebrew's arm and bent it back so far the lower part of Harmon's arm was totally off-set from the upper part.

Collier Will Use Veteran Lineup In Star Contest

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier will field an experienced lineup of Cleveland Browns against the College All-Stars in Chicago Friday night.

Collier has yet to name his starters, but he indicated Monday that he will depend on veterans who carried the team to the National Football League championship last season

Any lineup changes probably would result from seasoned players being sidelined by injuries.

The Browns' offensive unit mostly likely will include quarterback Frank Ryan directing a backfield with Jim Brown and Ernie Green. Gary Collins and Paul Warfield will be the flankers; John Morrow at center; Dick Schafrath and Monte Clark at tackle, and Gene Hickerson and John Wooten, at guard.

Lawyers, Central Meet In Playoff Game

The Lawyers and Central Service will meet in the opening playoff game of the Colt League today at 6 p. m. in the best two out of three series.

Manager Harry Walker of the Pittsburgh Pirates was traded four times during his major league playing career.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

RICHARDS — G. Burton. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away 3 years ago. The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave. Where sleeps our husband and father, we loved but could not save, we often sit and think of you and speak of how you died; to think you could not say goodby, before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best; may God grant you eternal rest. From his loving wife and children.

IN loving memory of our wonderful husband and father, Frank Cashdollar, who passed away, August 3, 1957.
May you always walk in sunshine
God's love around you glow
For the happiness you gave us,
No one we will ever know.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone
For part of us went with you
the day God called you home.
Very sadly missed by wife, Hazel, children, grandchildren and all who loved him.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

RICHARDS — G. Burton. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away 3 years ago. The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave. Where sleeps our husband and father, we loved but could not save, we often sit and think of you and speak of how you died; to think you could not say goodby, before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best; may God grant you eternal rest. From his loving wife and children.

IN loving memory of our wonderful husband and father, Frank Cashdollar, who passed away, August 3, 1957.
May you always walk in sunshine
God's love around you glow
For the happiness you gave us,
No one we will ever know.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone
For part of us went with you
the day God called you home.
Very sadly missed by wife, Hazel, children, grandchildren and all who loved him.

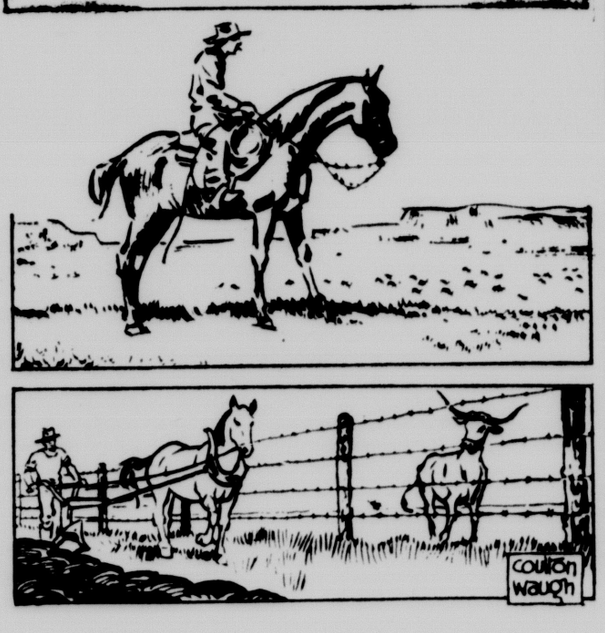
Junior Editors Quiz on THE OLD WEST



QUESTION: Who owned the "open range?"

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: "Home, home on the range, where the deer and the antelope play..." The words of the famous song give the feeling of the enormous open areas of western cattle-grazing land, so does our artist's cowboy picture. Cattle ranching began in Texas. When American settlers came, they found herds of wild longhorn cattle, descended from ancestors brought by the early Spaniards. The early ranchers turned their stock loose on land owned by the government, which became called the "open range." After the Civil War came the day of the great cattle drives, when rachers found it profitable to drive herds across the Chisholm Trail or the Western Trail to railroad shipping centers in Kansas and Missouri. But several factors brought an end to the open range, during the late 1880's. One was the Homesteaders act of 1862, giving every head of a family a right to 160 acres of public land if he lived on it for 5 years and improved it. Another was the invention of barbed wire in 1873, which enabled small farmers to fence in their farms and keep the cattle out(lower picture). The ranchers tried to stop the small farmers from fencing, but failed. They were forced to buy and fence in large ranches of their own.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Learn the rest of the words and the melody to "Home on the Range." Even if the open range is gone, the bigness and fascination of the west still remains.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You say you are a friend of us teen-agers but you are really our enemy. You have hurt our image worse than anyone else I can name.

I have been reading your column for four years and I have never read one letter from a good teen-ager. You only print letters from girls who have to get married, or boys who steal cars and get into trouble with the law. I'm a 15-year-old who doesn't know even one person who has done the things you are always yakking about in your crummy column.

You owe it to all teen-agers to turn over a new leaf and start to print letters from us good kids. This can be your first.—ONE OF MILLIONS.

Dear One: A columnist named Mike Royko who writes for the Chicago Daily News received a letter similar to yours. Here is what Mike said in his reply:

"Dear Good Teen-Ager: I'm sick of you. You are getting to be a pain in the neck.

"I can't remember the last time a Good Teen-ager came up to me and shook my hand and said, 'Gee, Good Adult, thanks for not being a Bad Adult.'

"You say nobody understands you and point out how valiantly you have resisted being a robber, a sniffer of glue, a dropout, and a menace to society. Besides, you don't hit your teacher, and you work after school and are a joy to your parents.

"I do not go around taking pep pills or shooting people either. My reward is that I don't get thrown in jail. That is also your reward. You don't punch your teacher and I don't punch my boss. So you get an education and I get to keep my job. You don't hot rod your car and neither do I. We both live longer and that is a pretty nice reward, isn't it?

"You work after school. I work after work. We both get money which is always handy to have around. And don't forget that for many years I have been contributing part of my money to building those schools that you are so generously not dropping out of.

"Your reward for staying in school is an education which will help you hold down a better job, or be a doctor or a lawyer. Education can help you live a fuller life and be a Good Adult. So stop writing and asking for praise for doing what you are supposed to do. That's what you're here for.

"Yours Truly.
MIKE ROYKO

Mucho Moocho

Dear Ann: I have a friend who is an absolute genius when it comes to mooching small amounts. Whenever we get on a bus she says, "Put in my fare, Minnie, I haven't got change. I'll get it next time."

When we have coffee breaks together she sticks me at least twice a week. Yesterday she asked me to pick up her watch at the jeweler's She suffers from hay fever and was feeling lousy. She didn't mention that I'd have to pay $2.50 to get the watch out.

Dear Min: What's the matter? No vocal chords?

Skilled moochers must be dealt with in a skillful manner. Don't let her outfumble you. Develop an impediment in your reach. When you have coffee together don't be bashful about saying, "It's your turn. I got it yesterday."

When she asks you to pick up items which have been repaired, you should assume they must be bailed out. Tell her, "Sorry, I can't afford it. Things are tough all over."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Train Rams Bus After Driver Had Ordered 25 Off

CLEVELAND (AP) — A bus driver ordered 25 passengers off a stalled city bus when he saw a mail train approaching the railroad crossing.

All the passengers reached safety and Karl F. Frebe, the bus driver, jumped clear of the bus Monday afternoon just before it was demolished by an 18-car New York Central mail train.

Frebe, 24, a city bus driver for two years, said he tried four times to start the bus, which had stopped on a crossing in suburban Euclid. He was unable to say what caused the bus to stall.

A bus passenger, Norbert Horgan of Euclid, said there was no panic among the passengers—24 men and a woman.

Effort Pushed To Free Destroyer From Reef

MANILA (AP) — Efforts are continuing to free the radar picket destroyer Frank Knox, aground on a coral reef in the South China Sea since July 18, the U.S. Navy said today.

A spokesman said there were no casualties among the crew of the 2,400-ton ship. The Knox is aground near Pratas Island, 165 miles southeast of Hong Kong.

Weirton Woman Will Face Grand Jurors For Slaying

Gertrude Huggins, 48, of 141 Kusic St., Weirton, charged with the shooting death of Charles Warren Wiley the morning of July 24, was formally charged with murder in the first degree at a preliminary hearing before Squire Thomas Bellanco Monday.

Donell called two state's witnesses, George Kource, detective patrolman, and Sgt. Michael Rumora of the Weirton police department, to testify as to the findings of their investigation of the shooting.

Bellanco ruled that Mrs. Huggins be bound over to the September term of the grand jury and be held without bail.

Alpert contested the ruling, saying that insufficient evidence had been given to warrant a first degree murder charge.

Kource testified that Wiley's whereabouts the night before the shooting had been traced to two Weirton taverns, where he had consumed beer prior to arriving at Mrs. Huggins' residence. It was also stated that he had taken several quarts of beer with him.

Additional testimony revealed that the weapon used was a .38-caliber Iver-Johnson rifle, and that the only sign of a scuffle was a tilted night table with a broken leg.

Weirton Woman Will Face Grand Jurors For Slaying

Gertrude Huggins, 48, of 141 Kusic St., Weirton, charged with the shooting death of Charles Warren Wiley the morning of July 24, was formally charged with murder in the first degree at a preliminary hearing before Squire Thomas Bellanco Monday.

Donell called two state's witnesses, George Kource, detective patrolman, and Sgt. Michael Rumora of the Weirton police department, to testify as to the findings of their investigation of the shooting.

Bellanco ruled that Mrs. Huggins be bound over to the September term of the grand jury and be held without bail.

Alpert contested the ruling, saying that insufficient evidence had been given to warrant a first degree murder charge.

Kource testified that Wiley's whereabouts the night before the shooting had been traced to two Weirton taverns, where he had consumed beer prior to arriving at Mrs. Huggins' residence. It was also stated that he had taken several quarts of beer with him.

Additional testimony revealed that the weapon used was a .38-caliber Iver-Johnson rifle, and that the only sign of a scuffle was a tilted night table with a broken leg.
